

STILLMAN—BEAUVAIS LETTERS

Job Printers and Yards Men End Strikes
Strikes affecting the stockyards and job printing industry in Chicago were settled yesterday.
The walkout of the live stock handlers was called off when union officials agreed to submit the proposed wage cut of 8 cents an hour to Judge Alschuler for arbitration. The cattle handlers returned to work last night.
The job printers will report for work this morning. The walkout ended yesterday almost as suddenly as it had begun and a few hours after each side had announced its intention of standing pat.
The printers' demand for a forty-four hour week was granted, but the printers will accept the $4.35 a week wage reduction decided upon by Dean Ralph Emerson Hellman, who was chosen arbitrator by the committees of employers and employees. The basic wage for compositors will now be $46.65 a week.
Calls It Union Victory.
The conference between the representatives of the union and the Franklin Typothetae was held in the latter's offices in the Morton building. It lasted five hours. The union's delegation was headed by Sam N. Cann and Mark J. Mitchell, president and vice president of Typographical union No. 16. The employers were represented by Harry G. Cantrell, industrial commissioner for the Franklin Typothetae.
The strike affected 250 job printing plants here. According to Mr. Mitchell the granting of the forty-four hour week by the employers is a victory for the union.
"We were always willing to accept the arbitrator's wage cut of $4.35 a week, but we insisted that the installation of the shorter work week should be accomplished without a further wage decrease," he said. "We will immediately order the 6,000 striking printers, bookbinders, and press assistants back to work."
Alschuler to Arbitrate.
The live stock handlers and officials of the Union Stock Yard and Transit company appeared before Judge Alschuler and asked him to arbitrate the wage controversy. Patrick J. Griffin, Patrick Carrabine, and William Chaille presented the union's side of the dispute. Attorney John Black and William O'Connor represented the company. It was agreed that any decision rendered by Judge Alschuler is to be retroactive to May 1.
The situation in the building trades lockout remained unchanged yesterday. Thomas S. Kearney, head of the trade council, said the reports from the business agents show less than 20 per cent of the workers are affected by the tieup.
Edward M. Craig, secretary-treasurer of the Building Construction Employers' association, declared if the present tieup isn't settled within a month, another year will have to elapse before a building boom can start.
Bread Drivers Meet Today.
The committee from the bread wagon drivers' union will meet with the Master Bakers' club this afternoon in a final effort to effect a settlement before strike action is taken. The bakers want to decrease the wages of drivers $5 a week and also raise the commission basis.
The laundry drivers, the milk drivers, and the packinghouse teamsters' unions are all considering action in proposed wage cuts.
8,000 PRINTERS OUT.
Indianapolis, Ind., May 5.—Approximately 8,000 members of the International Typographical union are out on strike because of the failure of employing book and job printers to accede to the demands for a forty-four hour week. John McFarland, president of the union, said tonight. He said he believed the number had reached the peak for any one time.

ALLIES DEMAND CASH AT ONCE OR TAKE RUHR

Lloyd George Explains to Commons.
BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, May 5.—The final meeting of the allied supreme council was held at 9:45 o'clock this morning at Prime Minister Lloyd George's official residence at 10 Downing street, when the members affixed their signatures to the ultimatum to Germany and the protocol on reparations.
Each document was written in English and French, the English text being signed by Prime Minister Lloyd George first and Premier Briand second, and the French text was signed by M. Briand first and Prime Minister Lloyd George, third. Immediately after the signing the French delegation took the train for Paris.
To German Envoy.
Prime Minister Lloyd George then summoned German Ambassador to London Sthamer by telephone and at 11 a. m. he was handed both documents.
The ultimatum to Germany expires on May 12, on which date, failing German compliance, the French will occupy the Ruhr, and the British will carry on a naval demonstration before the German ports.
Here Are Chief Points.
The outstanding points of the reparations demand, which was signed by the reparations commission, follow: The first bonds, A series, for 12,000,000 gold marks must be delivered by July 1.
Series B bonds, for $8,000,000,000 gold marks, must be delivered by Nov. 1.
Series C, for $3,000,000,000 gold marks, are to be delivered by Nov. 1, but they will only be issued as the reparations commission decides on Germany's capacity to furnish funds.
All bonds must be free from German taxes and charges. Germany also must pay within twenty-one days 1,000,000,000 gold marks ($200,000,000) for the first two quarterly installments on the interest and sinking fund.
British official circles feel certain that Germany will accept the plan and that the new government, as soon as it is completed, will take immediate steps to prevent the occupation of the Ruhr basin.
Ambassador Sthamer declined to discuss the situation until his government has acted.
Invite U. S. In.
The supreme council has invited the United States to send representatives to the meetings of the supreme council, and the reparations commission, but this has not been announced officially. It is reported here that America has unofficially signified her willingness to participate with these bodies provided her views on mandates are accepted and the whole question is opened for revision.
TEXT OF ULTIMATUM.
LONDON, May 5.—The text of the allied ultimatum to Berlin reads: "The allied powers, taking note of the fact that, despite the successive concessions made by the allies since the signature of the treaty of Versailles, and despite the warnings and sanctions agreed upon at Spa and Paris, as well as of the sanctions announced at London and since applied, the German government is still in default in fulfillment of the obligations incumbent upon it under the terms of the treaty of Versailles as regards: "1. Disarmament. "2. The payment due May 1, 1921, under article 235 of the treaty, which the reparations commission already has called upon it to make at this date. "3. The trial of war criminals, as further provided for by the allied notes of Feb. 13 and May 7, 1920. "4. Certain other important respects, notably those which arise under articles 264 to 267, 269, 274, 321, 323, and 327 of the treaty, decide: "Decisions of Allies. "The allied powers have decided: "(A). To proceed from today with all necessary preliminary measures for the occupation of the Ruhr valley by allied troops on the Rhine under the conditions laid down. "(B). In accordance with article 235 of the Versailles treaty to invite the allied reparations commission to notify the German government without delay of the time and methods for the discharge by Germany of her debt, and to announce its decision on this point at once."

INDIAN GUIDE'S FERVID NOTES TO "HONEY" FIF

New York, May 5.—(Special.)—When James A. Stillman, recently deposed president of the National City bank, started suit to divorce Fifi Potter Stillman, he filed with his petition certain letters which the banker contents were written to Mrs. Stillman by Fred Beauvais, half-breed Indian guide. Stillman's allegation is that Beauvais is the father of little Guy Stillman. The social importance of the Stillmans—he is the son of the founder of America's largest bank; she the daughter of the internationally known Mrs. James Brown Potter, society woman and actress—gives these letters wide interest.
BACON AND MOCCASIN
The first of these letters, known as exhibit B, was dated Feb. 11, 1919, and was evidently written to Mrs. Stillman from the Beauvais home in Quebec. It follows: "My dearest Honey: "I just got back here on the farm on Sunday afternoon. I spent Friday in Montreal. Saw P. Deslaurie & Frank Catikan over Frankie. I did not go myself to see his parents. I thought it better not to tell P. D. to go and see what he could do and let me know. "I also went to Fraser & Viser for your bacon and Oglive's rolled oats and hope you got them by now; how I wished I could cook you some of that nice bacon. I think I could manage to get you bacon over once a week from them. I was down to see the head man in Montreal for the American Express Co. and they told me that there is no duty on small amounts. "I fixed up the papers for the shipping of the goods and I will be awfully disappointed if you have not received the stuff yet. I hope you get the little parcels with the beaded handbag and two pr. of baby's moccasins and a pin for baby. I hope yours fit you all right. I sent the pair of moccasins yesterday from Lac Beauce by registered mail. I hope you will have got them by the time you get this letter and let me know what you think of them, dearest. "The state officials agreed to advertise for bids for the proposed mile of road under their plans, but held out firmly against a price of more than $30,000 a mile."

DOCTOR PUTS BAR SINISTER ON FIFI'S BOY

She Admitted Error, He Testifies.
[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
New York, May 5.—(Special.)—Statements from a hysterical woman to her family physician were used against Mrs. "Fifi" Stillman today in the hearing of the divorce suit of James A. Stillman.
Dr. Hugh Russell of Buffalo, physician for the Stillman family and the Rockefeller, related before a referee today that Mrs. Stillman told him Fred Beauvais, Canadian guide, was the father of the then unborn Guy Stillman.
Tells of Stillman Visit.
Dr. Russell said Stillman visited Mrs. Stillman at a Buffalo hotel while she was under his treatment. It was at that time, Dr. Russell said, Mrs. Stillman consulted him, saying the child to be born in about six months was not Stillman's, but the child of her Indian guide.
Stillman's visit to Buffalo to see Dr. Russell and Mrs. Stillman evidently was the result of Mrs. Stillman's "hysterical" letter to Stillman.
Another setback was suffered by Mrs. Stillman's defense today when Referee Gleason allowed exhibit "B" of the Beauvais letters to Mrs. Stillman to be introduced in evidence and become part of the record. That letter begins "Dearest Honey."

VERMONT YOUNG WOMAN MISSING; HUNDREDS HUNT

Rutland, Vt., May 5.—(Special.)—Hundreds of persons today have been searching for Miss Marion Butterworth, social secretary to Miss Emily D. Proctor, "Vermont's wealthiest woman," who left her rooming house in Proctor Tuesday night and has not since been heard of by her friends.
The woods about Proctor for miles in every direction are being combed. The authorities are baffled, as there is little on which to base a suicide theory and the young woman is not known to have any enemies.
Miss Butterworth was president of the class of 1909 at Boston University College of Liberal Arts, and is a member of the Kappa Gamma sorority.
Mrs. C. M. Eaton of Weston, Mass., a sister of the missing girl, received a letter from her only a few days ago, which contained nothing to indicate depression of spirits.
ROBBERS STAGE HOLDUP SERIES
Squads of police combed the city early this morning in search of a trio of automobile robbers believed responsible for a series of holdups shortly before midnight. The total loot was $119 in cash, two touring cars, some jewelry, and one overcoat.
William Devine, 6039 South Union avenue, lost $28, a gold watch, and an auto. Dr. George W. Blah, 3955 West 26th street, and Dr. John J. Reilly, 4320 West Adams street, were robbed of small sums.
The plain taken from Abe Gluck, 208 East 22d street. Other victims were Thomas Nickles, 1701 Montrose avenue; H. Ericson, 1410 East 47th street; W. L. Talbot, 8344 Ingleside avenue; J. W. Flude, 6816 Ingleside avenue; and W. B. Woodburne, 6439 Drexel avenue.

EDISON—CRITIC OF COLLEGE MEN

Says Tests Reveal Many Failures.
New York, May 5.—(Special.)—Thomas A. Edison has weighed the average college graduate and found him wanting.
"He's amazingly ignorant," grumbles the Wizard, "he doesn't seem to know anything." When Edison completed his two years as honorary chairman of the naval consulting board, he journeyed back to his plant in West Orange and said he was amazed to find the efficiency of the organization had been lowered during his war service.
"I found the efficiency of the organization required rehabilitation," he said. "It had been lowered because of the negligence of those who were supposed to be watching and because of the mistakes of untrained and careless workers."
Questionnaire for Employees.
"I at once prepared an intelligence test in the form of a questionnaire which I supplied to my employees and to college graduates, to whom I offered employment if they scored to my requirements. The result has been astonishingly disappointing. Men who have been through college, I find to be amazingly ignorant. They don't seem to know anything." Mr. Edison selected a questionnaire at random.
"Take this man, for example," he said. "He has gone through college, but in my test he has been rated 'XYZ,' which is the lowest rating. The connection between that man's senses and his mind has been atrophied."

HURRAY! STATE AGREES TO PAVE ZION CITY ROAD

Waukegan, Ill., May 5.—(Special.)—The Illinois state highway department has agreed to advertise for bids for the paving of one mile of one of the worst and most traveled highways in the state—Sheridan road at Zion City. This decision was reached at a conference at Springfield, at which were Eugene M. Runyard and Lawrence Doolittle, representing the Waukegan-North Chicago Chamber of Commerce; George Johnson of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce; and Paul MacGuffin of the Libertyville Chamber of Commerce.
The state officials agreed to advertise for bids for the proposed mile of road under their plans, but held out firmly against a price of more than $30,000 a mile.

ONE PHONE ON THE BOWERY Had No Wrong Numbers

New York, May 5.—A plain clothes man today mingled with the customers of John Dowling's "soft drink saloon" on the Bowery. He noticed three peculiar things—the number of men who had to make phone calls, the fact all needed change from a bill to pay the call, and the extremely peculiar fact that they got their change in a short gliss.
The plain clothes man made a call. He received a nickel change from a dollar bill and his glass. When he entered the booth he found a spigot and turned it on.
Dowling will answer a charge of violating the state liquor law.
Speaker of Commons for Alliance to Japan
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, May 5.—J. H. Whitley, the speaker of the house of commons, speaking at a luncheon today given by the commercial committee of the house of commons to Mr. Hayashi, a visiting member of the Japanese parliament, said it would be the purest banality on his part to speak of the value of an alliance between his country and Japan, because that went without saying.

Later he was said to have added, "important, but not necessary."
"What did she tell you?" Dr. Russell was asked after Referee Gleason had refused to rule that this line of questioning was inadmissible.
"She told me that James A. Stillman was not the father of her coming child," Dr. Russell was said to have replied.
"Did she tell you who was the father?" was the next question.
"Must I tell?" Dr. Russell asked with every appearance of reluctance. Then he was said to have replied, in a low tone:
"Fred Beauvais."
Objection to Dr. Russell's answers to the last two questions were made by Abel I. White and John B. Stanchfield of counsel for Mrs. Stillman, and John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie, special guardian for Guy Stillman.
An exception was noted to nearly every question and answer all through Dr. Russell's testimony. It was said it is likely an effort will be made to have his replies stricken from the record.
Stillman Reaches Buffalo.
Dr. Russell then went on to testify that after Mrs. Stillman had the conversation with him, Mr. Stillman arrived at Buffalo, presumably as the result of the so-called "hysterical" letter, said to have been written to him by Mrs. Stillman about that time. It was learned that Mrs. Stillman, who was accompanied by Miss Anne Stillman, their daughter, joined Mrs. Stillman at the Hotel Iroquois, that Mr. and Mrs. Stillman went to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Russell for tea, and that both families went together to Niagara Falls on a sightseeing trip the following day.
It was learned that Mrs. Stillman had been a patient of Dr. Russell for four or five years, and that he was called to give osteopathic treatment to Mr. Stillman and other members of the family. Through the Stillman family Dr. Russell was said to have obtained a number of wealthy patients in New York City, and during the last year or two he is said to have come to New York frequently to treat members of the Rockefeller family and others.
Dr. Russell's direct examination had not been completed when the hearing adjourned. The hearing will be resumed May 19, and following that Mrs. Stillman's lawyers will cross-examine him.

Identifies the Letters.
The only other witness of the day was Bernard Kelly, former superintendent of "Mondanite," the Stillman estate at Pleasantville, N. Y. Kelly had been on the stand when the hearing adjourned on Wednesday. Kelly, who was on friendly terms with Fred Beauvais when the latter was instructing the Stillman boys in woodwork on the Stillman estate, previously had testified that he knew Beauvais' handwriting and had received a number of letters from him.
On his testimony Referee Gleason admitted in evidence one of the letters as described.
It was brought out that Mrs. Stillman befriended Kelly and his wife, a maid at the estate, when the Kellys' child was born.
Mr. Mack, in cross-examining Kelly, said:
"Years ago in Ireland traitors were hanging on every tree. How did they ever miss hanging you?"
Son with Mrs. Stillman.
Mrs. Stillman arrived at the Bar Association building in the morning in a limousine, accompanied by her oldest son, James A. Stillman Jr. Mrs. Stillman wore a picture hat, decorated with pink and white ribbons, and a black gown. She wore no coat or fur, and walked directly into the hearing room, with a smile for those she encountered on the way.
"You bet I'll help my mother," young Stillman said when asked how he felt. "I'll do anything I can for her. I'll testify any time she needs me."
"Jimmy," Mrs. Stillman then told reporters he had not seen his father since "this trouble started," evidently referring to the divorce action. The son did not attend the hearing, but was waiting for Mrs. Stillman when she came out.
Smiles, Faces Cameras.
Mrs. Stillman demurred slightly to a request that she pose for photographers at the end of the morning session, saying she thought they had taken enough photographs. She finally consented, however, and faced a battery of cameras smilingly.
After the final adjournment, she shook her head slightly as she went to her automobile. She was still smiling, but a slightly heightened color indicated the strain she had endured. It was learned that Mrs. Stillman has written with her own hand a complete account of her married life. This record, said to have been compiled from a series of letters, was declared to be in the hands of her counsel.
It was reported that in it she tells that Mr. Stillman neglected her and did not spend much time with his family, even when one of the children was ill. There are references, also, to Mrs. Stillman's inability to get her husband to attend parties she gave. She makes frequent complaints of loneliness.
Mrs. Stillman's attorneys were said to have the names of a number of society men and women who can give testimony in her favor. So far, however, she was said to be reluctant to

CLOVER, FERVOR, AND PIGS

Exhibit C is a letter dated May 29, 1919. It enclosed two four leaf clovers and was transmitted in an envelope (whose Canadian postmark was illegible) addressed to "Mrs. James A. Stillman, Pleasantville, New York State, U. S. A." The envelope and the clover leaves were made part of this exhibit. The letter said:
"My Dearest Honey:
"Thank you so much for your nice long letter and telegram. You don't know how much it cheered me. I don't know what happened to me, but I was fever and heavy headaches. I seemed to have gotten them in Montreal or somewhere."
"I could not sleep at nights until I would come to your room."
"Yes, dear, I am very lonely for you and miss you so much; it's just like as if there was no more lights in the world for me."
Cruel, but He Loves Her.
"In your letter you say I was cruel to you sometimes, dear; yes, I know I am bad and mean to you, but it always makes me want to love you more afterwards."

bring in any of her personal friends. Some of these witnesses were said to be willing to testify but already have given important information.
Friends of Mrs. Stillman said tonight that Dr. Russell's testimony had made her and her counsel more determined than ever to go ahead and make an "affirmative defense" by pressing the counter charges against Mr. Stillman. In this connection, it was said, other women would be named besides Mrs. Florence H. Leeds, who so far has been the only woman mentioned in Mrs. Stillman's answer to her husband's complaint.
One of Mrs. Stillman's friends attributed to Mr. Stillman a remark that she said he had "dragged in the mire." This friend added that not all the "mud" was on one side and that this would become evident when the hearings were resumed and witnesses for Mrs. Stillman began to testify.
It was said there were nearly twenty Canadian witnesses alone who would attempt to refute the stories told by the French-Canadian witnesses for Mr. Stillman.

ADDRESS IN COMMONS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1921. By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, May 5.—Prime Minister Lloyd George in the house of commons this afternoon made a full statement as to the terms agreed on by the supreme council and explained the method of payment for the amounts demanded from Germany. He followed closely the text of the protocol, but he declared that Germany could vary to the extent of making part payment in kind, chiefly coal.

He said Germany was at fault not only on reparations payments but also on disarmament and on other treaty obligations.

The prime minister said Germany had too many machine guns and far too many big guns and other weapons while the most disquieting fact was the growth of the irregular military organizations. Bavaria alone, he said, has a force of 300,000 men, which is a nucleus for a most formidable army. France and Belgium are naturally anxious about this, which has made it impossible for them to settle down and has compelled them to continue to arm and to keep their eyes on their eastern frontiers.

"I have been very anxious to deal fairly with Germany and her leaders," said the premier. "The task was not an easy one. We have all had difficulties with public opinion. When we talked about compelling Germany to pay, using coercive measures, it was really about compelling ling the German people to face disagreeable facts. They will not do that unless the alternatives are disagreeable.

France Wants Action.

The prime minister said France was anxious to march into the Ruhr district on May 12, but the council thought Germany ought to have fair time to consider. Now she must make up her mind at last.

Replying to an attack to the effect that the council had been influenced by Jewish financiers to let Germany down lightly he said, "Some people have Jews on the brain. They sing Jewish psalms on Sunday and the rest of the week they promote Jewish pogroms."

There is no use being impatient with France, he said. England and the sea and Italy the Alps for protection, but France is a living memory to two invasions of Germany and of devastations of her fairest provinces.

BERLIN, May 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The allied reparations ultimatum, which was received here today, was studied by the cabinet and the reichstag. The cabinet, which ended today, due to their somewhat controversial character, and because the council desires to have an American representative at future council meetings.

SPORZA BACKS U. S.

PARIS, May 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Count Sporza, the Italian foreign minister, talking during the journey from the supreme council meeting in London today of the American government's note concerning the reparations ultimatum, said it had not been discussed formally in the supreme council meetings, but that he had occasion to talk of it with Earl Curzon, the British foreign minister.

"I said to him," continued Count Sporza, "that without the United States the war would not have been won. She has asked for nothing and is entitled to have her way about the reparations. She ought to have it and the Italian government desires her to have it."

"What do you think the Japanese attitude will be?" the correspondent asked.

"I am confident," replied Count Sporza, "that the Japanese government has too clear a sense of political realities not to agree."

Although America has again refused to act as arbitrator or mediator, Herr Stresemann said today, "we hope in the near future to have meetings in which the United States will participate. We must have end conferences, which might bring a new atmosphere; not that we expect the United States to support Germany, but we have confidence in the judgment and objective of President Harding."

For Debt Tax.

"The world's economic leaders must try to repair the world's economies. They should meet to discuss production, freight, sales conditions, credits, finances, and finally a tax upon the whole production of the belligerent countries so that their debts can be paid. Germany could pay a higher tax than the others, which would show the difference between the vanquished and victors."

COUNCIL TURNS TO YAP QUESTION SOON IN OSTEND

LONDON, May 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Many pressing questions, including those of the Yap mandate and Upper Silesia, now are awaiting the decision of the allied supreme council, which probably will meet soon in Ostend, Belgium, to discuss them.

A solution of the Yap issue is regarded here as of prime importance, owing to its international significance involving the United States, and the question of Upper Silesia is becoming increasingly grave because the insurrectionary disorders there still continue. The report of the Upper Silesia plebiscite commission already is in the hands of the members of the supreme council, who are studying it.

These two questions were not touched on at the conference of the council, which ended today, due to their somewhat controversial character, and because the council desires to have an American representative at future council meetings.

HARDING GIVES PLEDGE OF AID TO WAR HEROES

Washington, D. C., May 5.—President Harding gave his pledge today to the disabled soldiers at Walter Reed hospital that the nation would not fail in making them fit to embrace "the opportunity, which is yours as citizens of America."

"I know this thought is in the hearts of the congress," he said, "and I can assure you that it is in the heart of the executive and more. I know it is in the hearts of the people."

Referring to the civil war, the president stated that in the half century which has elapsed "the great debt has been paid."

"You soldiers from Alabama and Ohio and the other states have succeeded in wiping it out," he exclaimed. "The people of Alabama wanted precisely the same things as the people of Ohio, he said, adding that as chief executive he was resolved to regard America as a whole and not confine himself to any one of its parts."

Mr. Harding said R. R. War through William McKinley and his faithful leadership during the Spanish-American war that such great progress was made in bridging the chasm separating previously the north and south.

HOUSE DELAYING MAKING PEACE WITH GERMANS

Goodies Invites U. S. Into Allied Council.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—American negotiations pertaining to international problems are approaching a critical juncture. Development in the next few days are expected to determine in large measure the course of the United States in making peace with Germany and participating in European affairs.

While President Harding was considering today the invitation of the allies to accept an American representative to the supreme council, the reparations commission, and the council of ambassadors, it became known that the allies resolution declaring peace with Germany has been sidetracked in the interim, temporarily at least, pending developments in the reparations controversy and the disposition of American negotiations in regard to national rights.

Available Events in Europe.

Chairman Porter of the house committee on foreign affairs, who accompanied President Harding yesterday, estimated that happenings in Europe in the next week or two are likely to have an important influence on action by the committee on the Knox resolution recently passed by the senate, though he denied that the delay consideration of the peace measure had been brought about by the administration.

While Mr. Porter was disposed to support this development in consideration of the mystery and administration officials were uncommunicative, there is reason to believe that the committee on the Knox resolution is due to take action on the reparations question and the demand of the allies for recognition by the United States of the island of Yap and other mandate territories.

If the United States accepts representation in the supreme council of the allies and in the reparations commission, and if the supreme council settles the Yap controversy to the satisfaction of the United States administration, the committee may exert its influence to procure changes in the provisions of the Knox resolution in important particulars.

Favor Ratifying Treaty.

There are some important officials in the administration who favor ratification of the Knox resolution and ratification of the Versailles treaty with reservations. The event that the United States would participate in the reparations commission and the allies yield on Yap and other mandate territories.

The supreme council, now in session, is destined to take up the Yap question in pursuance of representations which the French have volunteered to make in behalf of a settlement acceptable to the United States.

"I am giving careful study to the Knox resolution," Representative Porter said. "In the first place, there is great need for haste and we should consider thoroughly before we ratify."

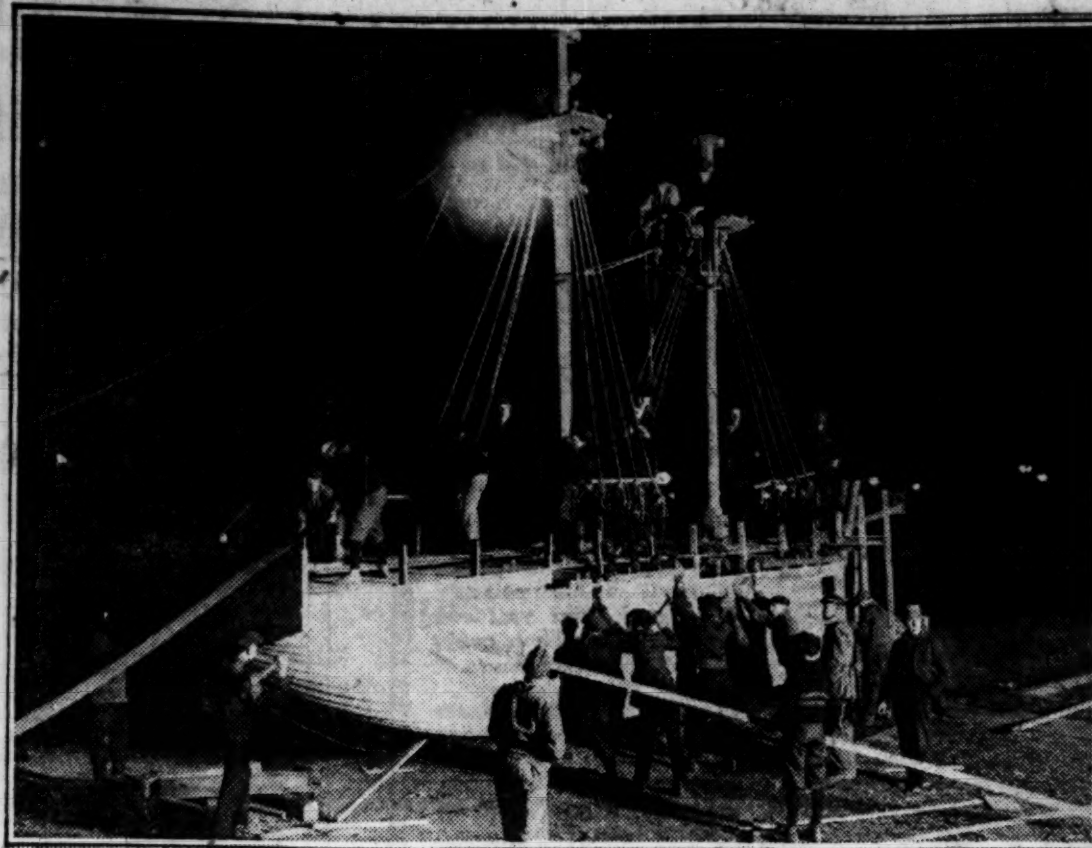

Reparations Farley at Crisis.

The reparations situation is critical. Developments of the utmost importance may come at any time. I have just heard it explained to my satisfaction why we should repeal the decision of the Knox resolution. I don't understand why it would not be sufficient to declare the war at an end, and, moreover, I want to make absolutely certain that our rights are protected and safeguarded by the resolution.

The allied invitation to the United States to participate in the supreme council and the reparations commission is delivered to Secretary of State Hughes at noon by Sir Auckland Huddell, British ambassador. Mr. Hughes discussed the matter with the president after the afternoon, but declined to comment later. It was stated that the White House that the president was giving the invitation his consideration but had not reached a decision.

Mr. Hughes and Secretary of Commerce Hoover are known to be strong in favor of the United States accepting the invitation, believing that America should take a hand in settling the reparations question, on which the economic stabilization of Europe directly depends, and the extension of American commerce and payment of the allied debt ultimately depend.

For a week or more the twenty Sea Scouts camped on the lot at Goethe street and the Lake Shore drive have been building the hull of the John Paul Jones, while the rigging was being finished in a garage at 1406 North State street. FOCH SALUTES NAPOLEON I. AS GUIDE OF FRANCE

Talks 100 Years After Emperor's Death.

PARIS, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The guns of the Hotel des Invalides thundered a salute to Napoleon Bonaparte exactly to the minute that his death occurred at St. Helena 100 years ago today. This was the closing feature of two days of ceremonies in honor of the "little corporal."

Marshal Foch, who was the commander in chief of the greatest army of all times, previously had delivered an oration on the exploits of the Corsican at the final military and religious services held at the tomb of Napoleon.

Pollux Honor Emperor.

This morning a military salute to the founder of many of France's present institutions was given at the Arc de Triomphe, where all units of the army were on dress parade.

At the concluding ceremony in connection with the centenary of the death of Napoleon, late this afternoon, Marshal Foch, standing before the altar, but looking over the lower rounds, where lies the body of the former emperor, spoke of the character and achievements of the French soldier-ruler.

In a strong, clear voice the marshal spoke of Napoleon as a warrior and extolled his military genius.

"Sire, sleep in peace," Marshal Foch said in concluding his oration. "From the very tomb you work tirelessly for France. When danger threatens the homeland our banners tremble at the passage of the eagle. If our legions returned victorious under the triumphal arch you built it was because the sword of Austria showed the way in teaching how to unite and lead forces which give victory."

Followed as Master.

"Your masterly lessons, your unrelenting toil remain deathless examples. By study and meditation of them the art of war daily is broadened. Only in the light of the beaus of your immortal fame, plous and tenderly cherished, can future generations for many years to come hope to follow the science of battles and the evolutions of armies in the sacred defense of the homeland."

The ceremony at the tomb, like that at the Arc de Triomphe, was a military display, with detachments from all branches of the service in attendance. Military bands played before and

Boys' Week Opens

Young Chicago will open "Boys' week" this afternoon by a parade up and down Michigan boulevard. "Assembly" for the thousands of youngsters who will march will be sounded at 1 p. m. in Grant park. When the ranks are formed and the floats are in their proper positions the largest gathering of boys ever assembled in Chicago at one time will march off. They will march north in Michigan boulevard to Chicago avenue and return to 8th street.

Final arrangements were announced last night by Gen. Leroy T. Stewart, chairman of the parade.

"The boys will be divided into groups," he said. "First will come the school section with Lane Technical High school leading. The majority of the high school boys will be in uniform—others will not. The next group will be the Boy Scouts, the Sea Scouts, their floats, and other organizations."

Mayor Thompson and other officials have been invited to stand in the reviewing stand. The parade was first suggested by Judge Victor P. Arnold of the juvenile court.

after Marshal Foch delivered his address.

The famous band of the Garde Republicaine played the republican air, "Sons Are Greater than Their Fathers," written after the battle of Marengo, Italy, which completed Napoleon's campaign in northern Italy, and was first played before Napoleon at the Invalides palace.

During the ceremonies today in the outskirts of the city a series of anti-Napoleonic meetings were held at which internationalism was preached and militarism denounced.

INDICT OWNERS FOR FIREWORKS BLAST DEATH

True bills charging murder were voted by the grand jury yesterday against William Singer and Nathan Schaffer, of the Singer-Schaffer company, owners of the novelty store at 1427 South Halsted street in which six persons lost their lives on March 30 in a fireworks explosion.

Isidor Schaffer, son of Nathan, and Jacob Zimring, bookkeeper of the concern, also were indicted. It was reported they were charged with manslaughter. The bills will be returned before Chief Justice McDonald this week.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert McMillan presented the evidence to the grand jury.

CLUBS INDORSE FIGHT TO BRING BERGDOLL BACK

Press Club Among First to Demand His Return.

The national campaign inaugurated by the White Paper club of Chicago to bring Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the millionaire slacker, back to prison is already enlisting support. Wednesday the club sent a circular letter to sixty of the leading clubs in Chicago and to many other organizations throughout the country and several have already replied.

Press Club Backs Plan.

The Press Club of Chicago, through its president, Clyde A. Morrison, sent the following letter to Fred A. Bersche, secretary of the White Paper club:

"The bumptious arrogance of Bergdoll's refusal to serve, his open appeal to enemy courts for protection against a service which all the other young men of America went more than half way to meet, his candid cowardice and open belief that money could keep him out of the reach of possible service and possible wounds," Morrison says, "blend in a picture beside which Benedict Arnold's would look saintly sweet."

"To call him a slacker would be loose-lipped flattery. The Press club, in whose rooms the 1918 Engineers was formed, and the only club that sent more than half its active membership to the nation's defense, takes a leading voice in demanding justice upon this pusillanimous moneybag with his enemy tinge. It would be interesting to have him show how many little stones he could make of a big one."

Affront to Good Americans.

The letter sent out by the White Paper club states:

"The Bergdoll case is an affront to every good American. It belittles the patriotic services of all American men and women in the world war. It has left the power of the United States open to ridicule, disrespect, and contempt on the part of the foreign born. Its continuation in its present status weakens faith in American institutions and lessens confidence in the American government. Bergdoll should be demanded of Germany and placed in the penitentiary to which he was sentenced."

"The early replies we have received are certainly gratifying," Mr. Bersche said.

FULL BERGDOLL INQUIRY

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—The disclosures thus far made regarding the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the notorious draft slacker, have so aroused the house committee investigating the case that it has determined to leave no stone unturned and to summon every person involved in the affair in its efforts to fix the blame.

It is likely that Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, may be called to the witness stand and the committee is considering the advisability of summoning Mrs. Emma Bergdoll, mother of the escaped slacker. The inquiry members of the committee are eager to learn whether any officials higher up in the war department had knowledge of the circumstances which led to Bergdoll's escape.

Judge Westcott of New Jersey, who nominated President Wilson at the Baltimore convention in 1912, has asked the committee for permission to return to the witness stand next week. He wants to answer some of the statements made by Gen. Ansell when he was on the stand Tuesday.

Sentences Mrs. Bergdoll May 17.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll and four others found guilty of aiding Grover and Edwin Bergdoll to desert from the army will be sentenced May 17.

They were due to be sentenced tomorrow by Judge Dickinson, who ordered a postponement today on account of the illness of United States Attorney McAvoy, who will be unable to be in court.

ACTRESS COUSIN OF MAY DE SOUSA GIVEN DIVORCE

Mrs. May De Sousa Grant, an actress and cousin of the operatic singer, was divorced yesterday by Judge Jesse Baldwin in the Circuit court from Raymond G. Grant, 2910 Lake Park avenue. Her husband believes she is at present in New York with their daughter Frances, 7 years old, whom the court awarded to the father.

The divorce recalls the debut of May De Sousa, the operatic singer, in the old Chicago Opera house twenty years ago. Ald. John J. Coughlin (Bath House John) was a close friend of Detective Sergeant John De Sousa, father of May.

"I have spent $10,000 on my girl's voice, touring Europe and everything, but it didn't bring in a cent," De Sousa told the alderman.

"Never mind," said The Bath, "we'll fix that."

He then published an announcement that he would give anyone $5,000 who could write a better love song than he. With the assistance of John Kelly "Dear Midnight of Love" was written, and May De Sousa was launched on her career.

ALDERMEN TAKE STEPS TO HALT FEES OF EXPERTS

know what the experts' organization is. It is difficult to convince the public that any two men can earn $1,000,000 in one year appraising buildings for the city. Supporting information would clarify the situation.

"The finance committee fixed the rate," said Faherty.

"Didn't the rate originate with you, and were they not recommended by you to the committee?" asked Woodhull.

"I made the best rate that I could, and I thought it was the best bargain ever made," said Faherty. "I challenge any one to get the work done so well and so much of it at the price."

Intimates Architects Charge 5%.

He went on to give the impression that an architect would charge 5 per cent, and then continued:

"You ask what Mesce and Lynch did with their money. That is no concern of mine. I have never been in their offices."

"Don't you as head of the department think there is some limit to what Mesce and Lynch can earn in one year?" interrupted Woodhull.

"The rate is the thing you are concerned with—not the total earned," replied Faherty. "Didn't you ever hear of a lawyer earning $1,000,000 in a year?"

"Not from the city or other public office," shot back Woodhull.

Cite Realty Board's Rates.

"But the Cook county and the Chicago real estate boards would do this appraisal work for the city at about one-tenth of one percent," remarked A. C. Anderson.

"There are only about six men in Chicago who can do this work and make their opinions stick in court," said Faherty.

"Do Mesce and Lynch do all of their own work," asked Powers.

"That's silly," said Faherty. "They have hundreds of men working for them." (Two aldermen smiled.)

"How long have these six men been established," asked Ald. Moran.

"Mesce has been an estimator for twenty years," replied Faherty.

"My information is that he was a draftsman six years ago," put in A. C. Anderson. Ald. Wallace gave the committee a statement showing the compensation paid building and ground experts in a score of other cities. These varied from $7 a day to $50, or translated into percentages, from two-tenths of 1 per cent to four-tenths of 1 per cent.

Moves for a Per Diem Basis.

Woodhull prevailed upon the committee to ask the board of local improvements for the number and kind of employees needed by the experts to do all the work the city wants done in the time it wants it. He said emphatically that his purpose in getting the information was to place the experts on a

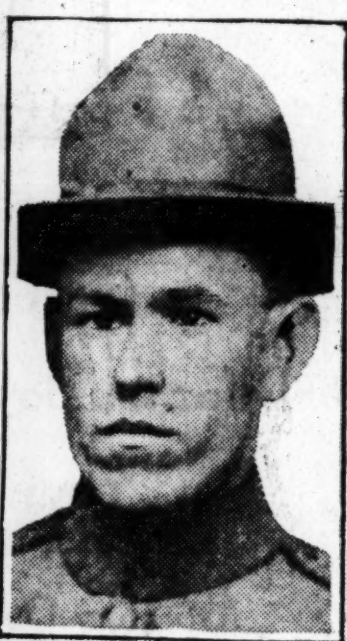

SYMPATHY COSTS A LIFE

The photo-diagram illustrates how James McDonough is believed to have been slain yesterday. His body was found in a passageway between two houses and there were indications that two men had attacked him. The horse and milk wagon which he drove are shown where they were left by him before starting on his last trip. (TRIBUNE Photo.)

per diem instead of a percentage basis. His motion passed without opposition. The committee did not determine whether it intends to pay the expert a daily wage and then pay his subordinates or whether the expert will be given sufficient to pay himself and his employees. Woodhull, however, favored the latter scheme.

DEATH OF SIX AN ACCIDENT. A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday at an inquest into the death of John Jakubczyk, his wife, and their four children, who were found asphyxiated in their home, at 1455 Tell place, Wednesday afternoon.

GIRL'S RELATIVES HELD IN MURDER OF WAR VETERAN

Soldier Her Friend When Another Betrayed Her.

His kindly interest, sympathy, and advice to a 16 year old girl approaching motherhood may have caused the murder of James McDonough, war veteran, whose body was found yesterday morning in a passageway between two houses at 5838 and 5840 Shields avenue, a bullet through his heart.

McDonough lived at 1812 West 53d street. He was 28 years old and a milk wagon driver. Near his horse and wagon were broken milk bottles and two men's caps, indicating a struggle had occurred.

Working all day on the theory that a sweetheart of Miss Thelma Shomo of 4550 Maryland avenue might have committed the deed, Lieut. Patrick McCauley of the Englewood station rounded up Lester Long, 24, of 4442 Calumet avenue, whom she named as the man responsible for her condition. Long is confined to his bed with rheumatism and physicians say it would have been physically impossible for him to have been at the scene of the crime.

Girl's Relatives Held. The girl's father, James Shomo, an ex-convict; her sister, Mildred, who has been in several police affairs, and Oscar Kutache, 39, 7223 Stewart avenue, a milk wagon driver who had quarreled with McDonough, were under arrest last night.

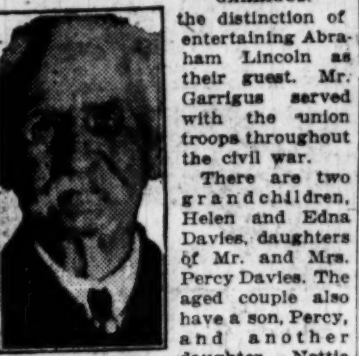

McDonough was known as "Big Hearted Jim." He had six sisters, three of whom he was supporting. He met Miss Shomo while delivering milk to a confectionery shop in Cottage Grove avenue, where she was a waitress.

His sympathetic nature won her confidence. She told him of her trouble. He advised her to tell her parents. His solicitude caused him to talk with her frequently, and he is said to have taken her out on several occasions. It was also thought he talked to the man she held responsible, and this was looked upon as a possible clue to the murders.

Two Other Men Sought. Keutche knew the girl and knew of her difficulty. Police say he resented McDonough's intimacy with her. A bartender and a soda fountain clerk, the latter said to be a day student at the University of Chicago, known as

MARRIED 62 YEARS; HIS FAMILY WAS HOST TO LINCOLN

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Garrigus, 1820 Lathrop avenue, Forest Park, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage yesterday. He is 87 years old and his wife 25. They were married in Lacon, Ill., and came to Chicago forty-four years ago. The couple claim to be among the oldest families in Illinois.

MRS. STEPHAN GARRIGUS, the distinction of entertaining Abraham Lincoln as their guest. Mr. Garrigus served with the union troops throughout the civil war.

There are two grand children, Helen and Edna Davies, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Davies. The aged couple also have a son, Percy, and a daughter, Nettie C. Garrigus.

Admirers of Thelma, were sought last night by the police.

Labor trouble was dismissed as a possibility because the dead man was an ardent union supporter.

Lieut. McCauley discounts the theory that James Shomo might have thought McDonough was his daughter's betrayer and sought vengeance. Shomo had a disastrous experience with a sweetheart of Mildred, the elder daughter, who shot him five times.

QUIZ ORDERED INTO CITY HALL'S "FUND" RAISING

Women Act on "Picnic Ticket" Reports.

The following alignment was investigation yesterday an investigation of the Thompson-Lundin organization's city civil service employees of to its July picnic and of sub-to its weekly organ.
Robert M. Hogan, thirty-first ward.
Thomas P. Deveraux, seventeenth
ward.
Arthur F. Albert, twenty-second
ward.
Maypole, ninth ward.
James A. Moran, eleventh ward.
The committee on schools, fire, and service did not deem the subject of sufficient importance to conduct the inquiry itself and referred the matter to a subcommittee. At one time it was not certain it wanted to do that, but it had voted, 6 to 1 (Ald. Kavanaugh was the one), to appoint a subcommittee. Ald. Madderom made a motion that the Maypole resolution proposing for the inquiry be tabled. Ald.
Toole seconded it.

Maypole Halts Tabling.
Ald. Maypole, who is not a member of the committee, was present and opposed that plan by saying: "If you want to duck the resolution, go ahead."
"Don't get into the hole, where May-pole seems to want to put you," spoke Ald. Toole, who also is not a member of the committee. He also advised against the appointment of a subcommittee, although he said that the inquiry "would probably make only a small sink in the newspapers." So Madderom and O'Toole withdrew their motion to shelve the inquiry, but Toole was angry.
"Ald. Maypole is just fourflushing," said. "He wants to put every one out of the hole as in the council."
Then members of the committee inquired that Maypole produce the witnesses.

Refuses to Accept "Buck."
"You can't pass the buck to me,"
said the alderman. "I have made no charges which, if true, show a violation of the law. They have been made by the newspapers. I will cooperate in the investigation. I will make the in the heads of all departments and employees who have collected and the money."
Previously Ald. Maypole said he was of a saloonkeeper who had bought tickets from a detective agent of the state's attorney's office and that he could bring him in.
Some members of the committee considered that civil service employees had been coerced into buying and that they had a right to buy voluntarily.
The Daily News printed yesterday the names and circumstances of one employee in the boiler inspectors' office who claimed maintenance of his auto had been taken away from him since he refused to buy tickets.
Ald. Coughlin, O'Toole, Schlegel, Alder, Madderom, and S. M. Hogan opposed against Kavanaugh in the committee.

MATERNITY BILL PLAYED BY 'DOCS' IN U. S. HEARING

Washington, D. C., May 5.—The Hearings on the maternity bill today brought the fire of physicians today before a senate committee. Dr. Alfred Quessy, representing the physicians of Pittsburg, Mass., declared the federal maternity and infancy aid program was superfluous and demanded no money "except a few women who use money to burn and time to waste."
He described the bill as "a huge production of inflated socialistic ideas" and as "the entering wedge to the loss of federal control of the practice of medicine."

Tire of Life Before Tasting It

FILES SMUGGLED TO DEATH CELLS IN A MAGAZINE

Woman Behind Plot to Liberate Slayers.

Investigation yesterday of the jail delivery plot frustrated Wednesday, when five files were discovered in the cell of Harry Ward, condemned mur-derer, revealed to Jailer George Fitzgerald Lee that the files were smuggled into the jail by a woman.
The saws were secreted in a pair of shoes sent to another prisoner and circulated through the jail with the aid of a string and in an issue of a popular magazine. The only clue to the woman's identity is that she was known as Elizabeth R. She is said to be a woman Ward once befriended in court.
The plot was discovered when Ward invited Oscar McGavick, a Negro sentenced to die on June 24, to join him in the escape. When the magazine containing the files was handed to McGavick he became frightened and notified Lorenz Meisterheim, assistant jailer.

Wanderer Refuses to Join.
Carl Wanderer also was asked to join in the conspiracy. He refused, he said, because he could not afford to take any chances while his case is pending in the Supreme court.
Jailer Lee said the files first reached a prisoner on the sixth floor. They were dropped to Ward by a string.
Ward placed them in the magazine.
Investigators Condemn Jail.
The committee of punishment, parole, and institutions of the Chicago crime commission, together with a delegation from the county board, made a thorough inspection of the county jail and Criminal court building yesterday. They were unanimous in their condemnation of the present facilities for handling criminals.
Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the commission, said that a report on the inspection would be published within a few days.

BRIDES, 14 AND 15 SEEK DEATH WHEN ROMANCES FADE

A youthful romance almost ended in a tragedy yesterday when pretty Mary Todd, 15, of 10119 Commercial avenue, and Leona Pfister, 14, 3219 East 91st street, attempted to end their lives in a corridor near the juvenile court in the county building.

The girls decided to drink a bottle of iodine rather than be separated from their husbands of less than a week.
Only the prompt interference of Assistant State's Attorney Deane C. Sullivan saved their lives. The girls asked permission to go for a drink of water.
At the fount one drank part of the contents of the bottle and then handed the bottle to her companion.
Miss Sullivan, who had hurried after them, dashed the bottle from the second girl's hands and took them to the hospital ward. An emetic was administered in time. Later they were taken to the juvenile detention home.

A week ago Leona Pfister and George Talmadge, 17, who lives in 81st place near Crandon avenue, were married in Crown Point. His mother accompanied them, according to the girl.
The police have been asked to arrest the mother, Mrs. Rose Trumble, who lives with her son at the 81st place address.
Last Wednesday Russell Pfister, 21, a brother of Leona, was married to Mary Todd in the County building. The girl's parents traced the youthful couples to the home of Mrs. Trumble.
The court will be asked to annul
both marriages.

NAVAL ACADEMY RULES ATTACKED IN U. S. SENATE

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Naval academy authorities were attacked and defended today in the senate, the discussion growing out of the wholesale failure of midshipmen in examinations last January.

Senator Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, charged that the academy officials were "intent on having congress" by virtual refusal to observe the law requiring that midshipmen failing in their examination be given an opportunity to make up their work. Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, defended the academy administration.
Calling attention that 286 midshipmen had failed in January, the Ohio senator said they were required to submit to an almost immediate re-examination, and the 110 who then failed were forced to hand in their resignation.

He argued that the law provided that the men be given opportunity either to receive additional instruction or to drop back into the lower class.

THE CHICAGO BAND.

The Chicago Band association needs $125,000 to pay expenses this year. The association supports the Chicago band. The band, under General Director Well, gives concerts free nearly every night in some part of Chicago. It is a part of virtually every occasion when the city officially or semi-officially welcomes a guest or honors a day.

The association gets its money in subscriptions from citizens, business men, professional men, etc., who contribute $10 a year, and more, because they know the band is a valuable city asset. It has had eleven years of service and should have many more. It adds a great deal to community enjoyment, with concerts in playgrounds, parks, hospitals, orphanages, homes, enlivening life where it is not too bright naturally.

Heretofore the city has supported the band, knowing its services, and the request of the association for the money needed this year ought to find the necessary response.

THE KILLING OF HUSBANDS.

There seem to be two acceptable methods of obtaining a divorce in this country. One is by way of the chancery court, the other by way of a coroner's jury or criminal court.

The alternative is, of course, not for husbands but for wives. If the husband is a sufficiently disagreeable or the wife sufficiently attractive, divorce for the latter through aid of a gun and a sympathetic jury seems the more certain and expeditious.

In the latest case the man seems to have been an ingrate and a brute. If his wife's report of their life and of his character is reasonably fair no one is likely to regret his departure.

But two questions present themselves from all that precedes cases of the kind. Is the death penalty for offenses have not yet adopted their theory but have applied the extreme penalty only to murder in the first degree, to treason, and in some states to one or two other offenses. Jurors seem to approve its informal application to marital infidelity, to assault and battery of the domestic variety, or other masculine methods of making one's self a nuisance about the house.

In the latest case the wife had put up with neglect and abuse. The husband, if his story is complete, had done more than enough to forfeit her respect and love. He had also given legal grounds for divorce, but the wife was unwilling to take this exit from her life. Her love remained and it might be suspected that love displayed itself in the final act of the drama.

Surely her case was pitiful, but it is wise to put what amounts to the stamp of prompt approval on this informal taking of human life? Justice will not require extreme punishment in cases which contain mitigating circumstances. But verdicts of this character virtually commission any excitable woman to make herself legislator, judge, jury, and executioner. The killing of husbands has become an indoor sport, and the privilege is extended to mistresses also. The husband is not heard. He is condemned ex parte and by the complainant, who thereupon denies appeal and removes him quickly beyond reach of it.

Doubtless this system is founded on a commendable emotion and aims at an ideal justice. Perhaps in many cases this ideal is attained as it would be under the law. All the same, the method of private justice, familiar in primitive life, does not work well in the average, and progress has replaced it in older communities by law and its formalities as better safeguards of human rights.

"MILDLY, HELL!"

"The city is spending at a rate which means a deficit of $6,500,000 at the end of this year—putting it mildly," said Aid. Woodhull to the council finance committee regarding the corporate fund. "Mildly, hell!" interrupted Chairman Richert. "The deficit will be $9,500,000 if the city continues at the rate it is now going."

Taxpayers, we believe, will agree that even the vehemence of Aid. Richert is putting the case mildly in comparison with what might be said on the subject.

THE BERGDOLL CASE.

The case of the draft slacker Bergdoll is one of the most offensive and humiliating episodes in our history. While millions of loyal American boys were fighting in France or preparing to do so, this individual flaunted the government, escaped from its hands on a ludicrous pretext, and today is living in an enemy country presumably on gold obtained in wartime through some mysterious favor of the United States treasury. As the congressional inquiry goes forward the shame of this case comes home to us, and we hope the results will be definite and satisfactory. Not only should Bergdoll be brought home and punished to the limit of the law but the men who connived at his escape should be exposed and sent to prison. This every American demands and every resource of the government should be used to the full to accomplish it.

Meanwhile, may we especially hope that we shall learn the means by which Bergdoll was enabled to get a hundred thousand dollars of gold from the treasury at a time when no citizen could get a five dollar gold piece on a government gold certificate. What complacent or dishonest officials arranged that?

BOYS' WEEK.

Judge Victor P. Arnold of the juvenile court, chairman of the Chicago Boys' week committee, sums up the purpose of the campaign effectively in a single brief sentence: "It is to give publicity to boys' work and boy problems in order that we may draw up an insurance policy in favor of a better America in the future."

President Harding justifies and supports the program in language which explains and covers it completely. He writes: "The boys of today will be the men of tomorrow, and the future of our nation and the world will be in the hands of men and women of a future that is but a little way ahead of us. We know now, because the great war emphasized it in our minds, how very necessary it is that the boys of today shall be taught to be strong, clean-minded, sound-bodied, intelligent boys, in order that when their time comes to take the world's stage they may be the kind of men the world will require."

Boys' week in Chicago is designed to aid in the accomplishment of exactly these purposes. For that reason it should command the interest and support of every thoughtful citizen. It is designed primarily to accomplish two things—impression upon the adult public of its responsibility, individually and collectively, for the welfare of the boys, and the creation of a consciousness among the boys themselves of their growing responsibility for the future of the nation and its institutions.

Home training is of course the first and most important element in the creation of the best type of boyhood. But a city-wide program is invaluable in supplementing this training. It brings to the boy as no individual instruction could bring to him the realization that he is a part of organized society, with powers for good and bad in that society and a responsibility as definite if not as great as that of any other member. In the education of the boy to an understanding of that social responsibility lies probably the greatest potential benefit of the boys' week program.

The scope of the week's program will demonstrate to boys and adults alike the wide range of boys' relationship to the life of the community. It begins with a loyalty parade opening the week today. May 7 is boys' day in athletics, for which the slogan is "average boy in the game," emphasizing mutual responsibility for success. On Sunday special services in all the churches will make clear to the boys their part in the moral and religious welfare of the community. Boys' day in school, on Monday, May 9, will impress upon them the value of education both for themselves and for the future of their country. Boys' day in health, boys' day in industry, boys' day to entertain, and boys' day in home completing the week, will each have a point of interest and value.

Chicago will be the better for the week's activities. The boys, with this initial impulse, can continue to make it better from week to week and the years until they themselves rule its destinies.

A CONTRIBUTION TO PROSPERITY.

John M. Parker, governor of Louisiana, speaking at the convention of the Mississippi Valley association, declared it is time for the voters to get behind those in authority and obtain legislation which would make possible the development of all waterways rather than a few points of special interest to certain congressmen.

Gov. Parker's point is well taken. The lakes to the gulf waters and the lakes to the Atlantic sea are measures of practical benefit to so vast a territory that it is difficult to understand why the congressmen from a score of states do not force favorable federal action to perfect both improvements. The Mississippi valley produces 75 per cent of the country's wheat, 66 per cent of the soft coal, 47 per cent of the lumber, 70 per cent of cotton, 55 per cent of wool, 69 of oil, 94 of iron ore, 85 of corn, 81 of hogs, and 74 per cent of cattle.

In considering the prosperity of the United States it is evident that the prosperity of this vast, richly productive region is vital. It cannot prosper in proportion to its resources without adequate cheap transportation. Such transportation can be obtained through development of waterways for the movement of slow and bulky freight, leaving the handling of products which require more rapid transportation and the feeding of water terminals to the railroads. Such a distribution of freight business has been successfully developed in Europe. It can and should be developed here.

Engineers have compiled figures on costs of development, costs of maintenance, and costs of transportation. The sentiment of the great middle west has been expressed almost unanimously in favor of the improvements. Why do we delay? We have long contributed vast amounts in taxes to the development of coast harbors, the building of navy yards, the maintenance of a navy, and more recently to the development and upkeep of a merchant marine. It is time some of our funds were being used for our own benefit on a scale which would redound to the prosperity of the entire country. There is a task for congress of just as much importance as any task before it.

Editorial of the Day

A START AT THE BUDGET.

(The Campaign News-Gazette.)

The senate has passed Senator McCormick's bill establishing a national budget system. The house is expected to follow suit quickly, and President Harding's interest in the budget policy is such that his signature making the bill a law is assured. Although the McCormick bill is not so drastic as the extreme proponents of the budget idea would have liked, even they admit that it is a step in the right direction.

It represents an evolutionary rather than a revolutionary movement toward better control of the expenditure of the taxpayers' money. Its chief provisions are for a budget bureau to prepare estimates of departmental expenditures and the creation of the office of controller to audit and account for all governmental expenditures.

This official is subject to executive and not congressional removal. In this respect the bill differs from the one passed by the last congress and vetoed by President Wilson on the ground that it gave congress undue authority over an executive official.

The administration has accepted the Wilson view as to this aspect of the law. Imperfect as the new budget law is, we are disposed to give the administration credit for making good its prediction pledge.

WOMEN ASK FOR WARNING.

IN the course of an article on the nervous housewife, I somewhat incidentally quoted a warning to the romantic male of the human species written by Dr. Abraham Myerson. The helmsman of my sex were warned against the women with the large shiny pupils, the very animated face, and the complexion which changed rapidly from pale to pink. The type was designated the woman with the neuropathic eye. Here are samples of the responses which came turning in.

A Reader writes: "While your article may interest those 'defenseless members of your fraternity' it appears to me that you might do some good by at least to those of the female sex who give them a few words of warning as regards the approaching springtime and also the male of the neuropathic eye. I am quite sure that such information will come in very handy to those of the species who wear galoshes and yet keep their eyes open. When it comes to warning 'defenseless members of your fraternity' to be on their guard why not tip us ladies off? Goodness knows we will be the greater losers so far as value received is concerned."

L. writes: "From your article, 'Solace to the Troubled,' I was led to believe that women whose physical description would rate a high per cent mental and moral condition. In my work with them I cannot imagine being able, just by external factors, to discover the cause of the gold, as I find that the 'colored' lady and Sadie O'Grady are sisters under the skin' almost invariably, including myself."

A. S. writes: "I was much interested in your article. It carried a warning to the 'defenseless members of your fraternity' for which they should be deeply thankful. I wish you would publish a word of advice to the members of the weaker sex. Tell them how to choose from among the hibernating males who will soon go a-courting. How are they to know whether or not this defenseless creature is a moron and how are they to tell that he hasn't something bad or worse than the neuropathic eye hidden away? I do not think I am a moron and I believe my eyes are normal, with the exception of a little nearsightedness. Therefore I am anxious to choose a husband who will not be the father of morons and cat-eyed young ones. Please answer soon. If I am not mistaken there is a husband for me."

Tomorrow I will tell of my search for what these ladies charged me to find.

ASTHMA ONLY A SYMPTOM.

Mrs. L. D. writes: "I am in need of a hard and fast remedy for asthma. Every night of my life I start coughing at 2 a. m. and never stop until 3 p. m."

There is some roughening of the joints. You are stiffening up somewhat. That is about the worst I can say about you.

QUESTION OF TUBERCULOSIS.

VOTERS WARNED CITY HALL EYES SUPERIOR BENCH

Move to Control All Courts Predicted.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Throughout Cook county a new warning is being sounded by supporters of the coalition ticket for the election of June 6.

"If the Lundin-Thompson forces capture the Circuit bench," the voters are being told, "the same assault will be made on the Superior court next year. Formal notice has been served on all but five of the Superior judges that they do not please the city hall."

This is the construction placed by the coalition politicians upon the action brought by counsel for the defense in the suit brought by THE TRIBUNE to compel the restitution of more than $1,000,000 paid by two city hall "experts" and prevent the payment of an additional $1,500,000 to the same men. Speakers for the "sitting judges" ticket assert that in this case the city hall unwittingly disclosed its intention to obtain control of the entire bench of Cook county.

Galpin Points to Demands.

"The case of Judge Scanlan, who was told he would be put off the bench for deciding the school board cases against the city hall," said Homer K. Galpin, chairman of the Republican county committee yesterday, "is not the only case of its kind, although it probably is the most flagrant."

"Some time ago the city hall brazenly announced its plans to eliminate practically all the sitting judges of the Circuit court and to replace them with obedient members of their own organization and the result is the steadily growing popular movement to reflect the sitting judges on the coalition ticket."

"But the Superior court is as large as the Circuit court and now, by the action in the 'expert' fee case, the city hall machine has confessed that its raiding plans also include that court."

See Formal Warning in Motion.

"It has given formal warning to the judges of the Superior court and to the people of this community that it will not stand for its actions being considered or adjudged by impartial judges. The city hall, in this litigation, has filed an affidavit that fifteen of the Superior judges are so unfair that they cannot decide this case according to the law."

"The names and known characters of those judges are such a refutation of this charge as to prove that the action of the city hall is caused not because it believes it will not obtain a fair trial but because it fears it will obtain a fair trial."

"The only judges of the Superior court not included in the affidavit of unfairness are either unavailable to hear this case or are allied with the city hall."

Tom Lit Makes Clothes That Fit

Not a business man, but I happen to be one of those overpaid locomotive engineers that the public is always hearing about. I make $7.20 a day, and I have to serve on the jury would have to make $4.20 a day. Is that fair? I have been called to serve on the jury times in the last year and have been in each time because I came to work and didn't meet on $3 a day. What that judge get that charge stuff? The slacker are in charge of government. Why don't they let the jury's pay increased to at least what it is now, and they will be able to get good men to serve.

G. O. P. SENATORS BACK PROVISION OF TARIFF BILL

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Anti-dumping provisions of the emergency tariff bill were assailed and defended during the debate in the senate today. Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, charged that the real purpose was to make commodities now on the free list bear a duty.

Senators Penrose, Smoot, and Watson, Republicans, defended the measure, declaring that even though no dumping may be taking place now, legislation on the subject is a wise precaution.

"In addition to the protective features of the original bill there was very properly added in the house an anti-dumping and currency valuation provision," said Senator Penrose. "It is hoped that these provisions will to some extent relieve our manufacturing interests and permit them to revive somewhat during the period of months before permanent tariff legislation is enacted."

"Whether rates are raised or not, the anti-dumping provisions do not produce any revenue. They are a preventive."

Senator Penrose urged the need of the enactment of the provision in the bill extending control over imports of dyes pending the enactment of permanent tariff legislation.

WHITTLING NEWS INTO ITS NICHE, EDITOR'S THEME

Medill Students Hear How Chaos Becomes Order.

A late paper is like a cold fried egg
—you don't care for it.
R. R. ATKINSON.
(Night editor Chicago Tribune.)

BY EYE WITNESS.

The train dispatcher—so to speak—of this newspaper talked to the Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern University last evening and when he finished the school wondered how so gentlemanly, mild mannered a man is able to keep that way amid the rigors of a job such as his. He dispatches columns of news instead of trains of cars and it is his business to see that the tracks don't get overlaid, that the columns don't telescope and that the whole traffic does not end at two in the morning in physical and mental chaos and spiritual damnation.

"Minutes Worth Hours." His subject was "When Minutes Are Worth Hours," and he began thus: "Fellow Students: I'm here to talk on Time, and I won't waste yours."

He said that once when he was struggling at the fifty-ninth and one-half minute to make some last corrections "in the type," so as to jigger a piece of news into shapeliness, a witty printer—named Sullivan, of course, said the lecturer—summed it all up by remarking as he glanced at the pitiless clock: "Come on, let's go; we can't sell our paper in the office."

Our night editor said the title of his position was a survival from twenty years ago when the managing editor of a morning newspaper worked days and went home at 6:30 in the evenings. Those were the days when most newspapers would not have been able to pay the toll on cables now nightly thrown away for lack of space. The world has grown smaller and chattier since then and hence more exacting about having the latest news. The result is that the managing editor now just about begins functioning at the hour he used to fade away. So the "night editor" has really become the "make-up editor."

Some Fast Work Required. It was astonishing and most instructive to hear how a product so varied and apparently so impromptu as a daily newspaper is really all a matter of schedules minutely worked out. It has to be. Otherwise chaos. A thirty-two page eight column TRIBUNE means 256 columns, of which the news people may, and usually do, have at sunset 180 columns taken from them for the advertisements. That means seventy-six columns left for news. But the early schedules they make run eighty columns or more, usually, because hope springs eternal.

Hence comes the necessity for what Mr. Atkinson in his mild way called "readjustment." I have heard other words. He and his chief and his subalterns compare and whipsaw and dovetail and scheme, and for a while hold the whole world in their laps, sort of weighing it and deciding what parts of it have done the most important things of the last ten hours. And things is no process of reverie, either. They work fast.

"The necessity of all this planning

ROBERT W. STEWART CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF INDUSTRIAL CLUB

R. W. STEWART.
(Copyright: Moffett.)

At the annual dinner of the Industrial Club of Chicago last night Robert W. Stewart of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was elected president.

The other officers are: John H. Hardin, vice president; Hopewell L. Rogers, secretary; A. W. Shaw, treasurer; directors, Charles K. Foster, George E. Scott, Philip D. Armour III, Elmer T. Stevens, and Robert F. Carr.

The dinner was held at the Chicago club. It is apparent," said the lecturer, "at makeup time, when, in spite of all the planning, a great deal of news is left out. But without the planning the composing room would be a Bedlam and printers and editors lost in a chaos of type. It was in such a moment that the first beatitude of a newspaper office took shape.

"Blessed is a copy reader who makes one word do what two did before."

They strive—these chiefs and their column dispatchers—ever for "a mixture of news" in each issue. About thus: "Constructive news; informative news; news with a smile in it; news to stir the emotions; news with a tear in it."

The choicest place in an eight column newspaper is column 8, page 1— which they call the "turn column" because it is expected to be so interesting that it will lure the reader over into page 2, into which it is supposed to turn. They always plan to get a story of special interest to women on page 1—"not as a sop to sex, but as a recognition of sex equality."

About the ethics and the rigors of the hot, nerve-torturing, body-wearing time of makeup the lecturer said: "Newspaper training is similar to military discipline. Many things have to be done, and, under fire, are best done automatically."

"In such moments a good natured criticism will allay panic and make the speaker respected, but a snarl will cost you something. It pays big dividends to be courteous and even tempered at all times."

He is.

PACKERS' REPORT SHOWS A TRADE BOOM IN APRIL

An optimistic report was issued yesterday by the Institute of American Meat Packers regarding April developments. European countries have ordered meats from America. The British demand "assumed somewhat larger proportions, but the heavy stocks of meats held by the British and the uncertainty of the English industrial situation reassured their influence and at the end of the month the trade slackened," the report reads.

Hides began to move into market channels, and hide quotations ceased to be merely nominal figures. The revival of trade bore witness to the improvement in the shoe industry. The southern demand for pork increased, and there was a broader demand for beef.

"There is considerable evidence that traders have ceased to be afraid to buy."

$5 FINES FOR SHOTS AT POLICE STIR FITZMORRIS

Chief Resents Penalty in Gun Battle Case.

"The penalty for shooting a policeman is at least $5 and costs," said Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris last night. "This was definitely established today when two men, up on charges of assault with intent to kill, paid such fines. The reason they were fined probably was because they failed to kill one or both of the policemen they opened fire on."

Chief Fitzmorris was referring to the cases of Robert Nickisch, 8822 Buffalo avenue, and Joe Fajdic, 3443 East 96th street, who appeared before Judge John Richardson in South Chicago court on charges resulting from a shooting affray with Policemen John Treacy and John E. White of the South Chicago station on April 8.

Police Are Exonerated.
A few hours before the fines were imposed the policemen had been exonerated by a coroner's jury from blame in connection with the killing of George Nickisch, who was mortally wounded in the same shooting.

Treacy and White, on the night of their clash with the three men, were in plain clothes, according to the story, when the trio almost crowded them off the sidewalk. When the officers resented this they said the men fired on them. In the exchange of bullets that ensued the three men were shot. Treacy was wounded in the abdomen, and White's hand was powder burned.

Praised by the Captain.
Capt. Joseph Smith of the South Chicago station commended Treacy and White for bravery in a report on the shooting.

"We pin medals on our men for bravery," said the chief last night. "Then, when the assailant of a policeman comes up in court, he is fined or gets perhaps a light prison term. Not long ago Policeman Jeremiah Bowers was awarded a medal for bravery for capturing a man who shot him three times. The prisoner was sentenced to one year at hard labor."

Shades of Napoleon!

Yesterday was Centenary of the Little Emperor's Death, and This Chicago Woman Was Born in St. Helena House Built for the Exile.

MRS. EMILY L. BLACK.

Yesterday, the centenary of Napoleon's death, was a day of mingled feelings for Mrs. Emily L. Black of 4808 Kenmore avenue.

Mrs. Black was born in the room in which the celebrated Bonaparte would have slept if he had not died quite so soon. Longwood, a fifty-six room house on the island of St. Helena, was being built for Napoleon, but was finally taken over by her father, John H. G. P. Blackford, assistant commissary general of the British army. In 1856 the family moved to the United States.

Jewelry Store Robbers Given Long Prison Terms

MONDAY DIVORCE; ON TUESDAY HOOL TOOK NEW BRIDE

Divorced on Monday, married on Tuesday, is the order of events in the life of James A. Hool, wealthy real estate dealer, whose name has been much in the public prints recently.

Mr. Hool was divorced by Mrs. Louise Hool last Monday. On Tuesday he went to Indianapolis, Ind., and was married in the Claypool hotel to Miss Rose Duffy, former switchboard operator in his office. Yesterday he was back here, announcing he and the new Mrs. Hool will soon be "at home" at 4931 Sheridan road.

"I have known Miss Duffy for twelve years," he said. "No, she was not the 'Jenny Roe' mentioned as a corespondent in the former Mrs. Hool's divorce papers. Miss Duffy had nothing to do with the divorce."

ILLINOIS BILL CUTS OFF LIQUOR PRESCRIPTIONS

Amended Prohibition Act Introduced.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—The amended prohibition bill put forward by the Anti-Saloon league was introduced in the senate today by Senator Wood. The bill proposes to stop the sale or consumption of any liquors in Illinois, including light wines and beer.

Specific prohibition is made against physicians' prescriptions for beers or wines in any quantity. The Illinois prohibitory act conforms with the federal act as it would stand if the present Volstead law were amended to include the prevailing dry demands at Washington. The Illinois dries are putting into the state statutes the prohibitions that they desire in the amended Volstead law.

Will Precipitate Fight.
The appropriation bill to be offered later, carrying perhaps $250,000, will place responsibility for enforcement either on a commissioner appointed by Gov. Small or on Attorney General Brundage. This question of authority will be the basis of a fight between the Small and Brundage forces.

Senator Buck, after a fight brought on by Senator Kossinger, secured the passage of his bill that would provide ninth and tenth grade education in community high school districts as at present constituted and would levy a tax for the education of further pupils in regular four year high schools.

Good Bill Reported Out.
The senate committee on appropriations reported out without recommendation the $40,000,000 bill for the conduct of the common schools of the state. The original bill came out, as it was asked for by the State Teachers' association, meaning a state appropriation of $20,000,000 each year for the coming biennium. The senate bill now stands in the same technical situation with the Board of Trade bills and the senate boxing bills.

HOUSES PASSES U. S. BUDGET BILL BY 344 TO 9 VOTE

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—By a vote of 344 to 9 the house today passed the budget bill. The measure is slightly different from that passed last week by the senate and an adjustment of the differences will be reached in conference within a few days. The conferees plan to consult President Harding and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in perfecting the bill. Representative Johnson of Mississippi during final discussion of the bill led an unsuccessful attack to have the term of the controller and deputy controller, created under the measure, limited to seven years. These officials, who will have charge of the general accounting office, may hold office during good behavior, being subject to removal only by concurrent resolution of congress.

FOES OF LANTZ BILLS SEE WAY TO BLOCK THEM

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Springfield, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Opponents of the Lantz bills which are aimed at the dissolution of the Board of Trade today placed a legislative stumbling block in the way of their advancement.

Six senators placed in the journal a protest on the course thus far taken in consideration of the Lantz bills. The objecting senators are headed by Senator Clark, who has accepted the leadership of the fight against the Lantz bills. The protest argues that the Lantz bills never have appeared on the senate's first reading calendar, and that for this reason, they are worthless, legally or technically, even though they pass both houses and secure the approval of Gov. Small.

Evidence increases that the city hall in Chicago and the state administration folks downstate do not desire to have Gov. Small go up against the problem of the approval or the veto of the anti-board of trade bills.

The only legislative action of record today was to have postponed consideration of the protest until next Tuesday. This automatically carried over until next week all matters referring to the Lantz bills.

Alleged Thief Caught After Chase in Loop

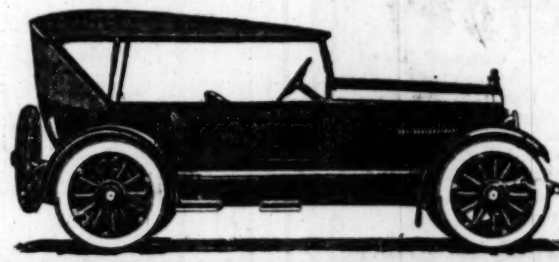

After a loop chase in which scores of pedestrians joined, James McDonald, alias James Edmondson, 32, was arrested yesterday at Clark and Van Buren streets. Rudolph Zepernick, 2910 Diversey avenue, said McDonald, a roomer at the Zepernick home, left Wednesday with some one else's fur coat valued at $300, $50, and a suitcase. Zepernick spotted McDonald in the loop and pointed him out to a policeman.

Willie Dalton Will Face Second Trial on June 20

Willie Dalton, the 16-year-old bank clerk, who is charged with the theft of $772,000 worth of Liberty bonds from the Northern Trust company, will be brought to trial for the second time on June 20. This date was set by Chief Justice Charles A. McDonald yesterday. The first Dalton jury disagreed after twenty-four hours of deliberation.

TRADE EXPERTS URGE CREDIT TO FOREIGN LANDS

U. S. Must Help Stabilize World, They Say.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Cleveland, O., May 5.—[Special.]—The result of diminishing exports and the piling up of our surplus products, crops, meats, wool, cotton, and other goods. One great task of the times is to aid outside nations, old customers, in getting on their feet to produce goods they used to send us in payment of their imports from the United States. These were the high light ideas to which speakers at the National Foreign Trade convention today tuned their harps.

The relation of agricultural prosperity to the disposal of surplus output in the world's markets was given much attention.

Encouraging Factors.

Three encouraging factors in the general situation which were amplified were: The stiffening of foreign exchange by federal reserve banks and the general feeling in business that the industrial depression seems to be turning the corner. Patchwork measures were decried.

The delegates applauded when speakers referred to theorists running amok with shrill cries of "high tariff rails" and "abolish the boards of trade."

Actual and permanent relief can come only through the creation of new markets and outlets for the surplus products of our farms and not in artificially raising the prices of goods entering into domestic consumption.

and Willis H. Booth, vice president of the Guaranty Trust company, New York, in talking upon the financing of agricultural efforts.

Questions Tariff as Aid.

"Our farmers cannot afford to allow themselves to be duped into believing that substantial relief can come through the erection of additional high tariff barriers. The results would be economic and unsound and would not reach fundamental causes. Equally inadequate are the proposals to bring relief through the readjustment of railroad rates to a pre-war basis, the reduction of Federal Reserve bank discount rates, based on farm commodities, a large increase in federal reserve notes, and other measures advocated as panaceas.

"They could not materially better domestic conditions, because the real reason for our present depression lies in international economic paralysis. Our task is to help speed world stabilization, and the sooner we appreciate that duty the quicker will we dissipate business depression."

All Favor Credits.

Credits for foreign trade were emphasized by all speakers. The indebtedness to the United States of about $18,000,000,000 was itemized like this: War loans, $10,000,000,000; surplus war material sold abroad, $3,000,000,000; due to American exporters and manufacturers, $3,000,000,000; due to American investors on bonds of foreign governments sold here and on stock in foreign concerns, $2,000,000,000. The balance is growing and one argument is that to enable payment, which will largely be in merchandise, the need is by a credit system, to enable foreign nations to buy on time our accumulating surplus of materials which they need for their economic upbuilding.

ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER SLAIN.

Jamestown, N. D., May 5.—One alleged whiskey runner was killed. Two others escaped during a gun battle with federal prohibition officers, near here this morning.

EAST INDIES OIL FIELD OPEN, SAYS HOLLAND NOTE

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Assurances that the Dutch government has no intention of discriminating against the United States in oil development in the Dutch East Indies were declared today in an informal statement by the Netherlands legation here.

Although no official reply has been received to the protest sent to the Dutch government by Secretary Hughes, the legation here points out that the contract in the Djambi fields voted to the Batavia oil or "Batavia" company had been negotiated before the Standard Oil company sought an interest in the fields, and that the contract cannot be regarded in any sense as a monopoly.

"The Netherlands government," says the statement, "has openly declared to be in favor of an open door policy and considers that the interest which foreign capital takes in the development of the East Indies can only work towards the advancement of the colony."

Initials Only Clew to Park Suicide's Identity

The initials "A. W." on a shirt and "M. L." on a watch are the only clues to the identity of a well dressed man who shot and killed himself yesterday in a clump of bushes in Lincoln park. Park policeman Paul Winton, patrolling his beat near Lake Shore drive and Webster avenue, heard the shots, a few seconds apart, and found the man lying in the bushes with a revolver in his hand. He was rushed to the Alexian Brothers' hospital, but died after aid had been rendered him.

5-piece tea set.

Virginia Carvel Silverware for WEDDING GIFTS

The most exquisite silverware I have ever seen is the Virginia Carvel Service at Peacock's. It is of the modern American type, of classic import, which bears the added charm of Colonial lines and dainty decoration. For wedding presents there is nothing finer and those who receive this service, or only a part of it, will necessarily value it through life.

There are 1130 pieces in the Virginia Carvel service-set. You may buy as few or as many of the pieces as you choose and from time to time you may add to them until you have them all. When this time arrives, no one can possibly have any finer silver-service than you have. For nothing finer is made.

Five-piece tea set $850 — Kettle $475
Waiter for 6-piece set $625

It would prove educational to go down to Peacock's and look over their silverware display. It would be impossible to make it more complete—out of the question to create designs more attractive and desirable. If you contemplate sending wedding gifts during the coming marriage season, I would advise you to visit the store. It will give you the information you desire.

THE GREATEST TAILORING VALUES IN YEARS

FOUR weeks ago, when we first announced this sale, we called it the greatest tailoring offering in history.

And Chicago agreed with us overwhelmingly.

So overwhelmingly, indeed, that the first shipment of this extraordinary woolen purchase sold out in 48 hours after our announcement appeared—and we had to withdraw the sale awaiting the arrival of the second shipment.

Now the second shipment is here—larger, richer and finer than the first—and the sale is re-instated for as long as this wonder-stock holds out (which, we warn you, won't be very long).

T-R-T

Opportunities like these come to clothes buyers once in a blue moon.

An important eastern mill found itself in need of quick funds.

Its most important resource was a large and fine stock of custom fabrics—made for its exclusive New York custom-tailor trade.

But this mill could not afford to wait until this stock was disposed of through the regular market channels.

It wanted cash—and wanted it quick. So it came to us and made us a remarkable spot cash offer on the complete stock.

We closed the deal, quick as a wink, and are passing the savings, in toto, along to our Chicago friends.

Never before have we offered so large, so resplendent an assortment of exclusive, blue-blooded, custom-tailor fabrics at so small a price.

MEAT RETAILERS LABELED WORST OF PROFITEERS

E. C. Brown So Declares in House Hearing.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., May 5.—(Special.)—The national live stock exchange declared war today on the retail meat dealers.

Everett C. Brown of Chicago, president of the exchange, appearing before the house agriculture committee in opposition to packer legislation, characterized the meat retailers as "the greatest profiteers this country has ever known." He urged the committee to desist trying to regulate the packers and to concentrate efforts on breaking up the profiteering by the retail dealer.

Mr. Brown furnished the committee with a résumé of a survey which he made recently of retail prices in Chicago. These prices, he declared, often showed a jump of 100 per cent from the wholesaler to the consumer.

"Greatest Profiteers Ever Known."
"I read nothing in the proposed legislation that tries to control what everybody in this room knows to be the greatest profiteers—not only during the war but at the present time—that this country has ever known," said Mr. Brown. "Why does not congress try to control these people who by their retail butchers' associations in the large distributing cities have a closer organization than any of the big trade union organizations in America?"

"A recent survey of wholesale and retail meat prices in Chicago disclosed startling comparisons. Only last week I checked up on prices in two shops located directly across the street from each other.

Tells of Own Observations.
"Meat obtained from the same packer was being sold in one shop at from 10 to 15 cents a pound more than the same brand and cuts were bringing across the street. In another shop I found a popular brand of sausage retailed at the same price it was bringing during the period of high prices of last fall and winter, although I happen to know that the maker of the sausage had reduced his price to less than the pre-war basis."

"I was offered a pound of a well known brand at exactly two and one-half times the price that brand was wholesaling for on that day. Bacon costing wholesale 30 to 35 cents was offered at 65 to 66 cents a pound, the buyer paying for full weight and no trimmings deducted. Hams which were wholesaling at 25¢ to 32 cents were being sold at prices of 50 to 65 cents for center slices."

Wallace for Supervision.
Secretary of Agriculture Wallace went before the committee and endorsed the principle of supervision of the packing industry, but warned against "unnecessary interference" by the government. Such interference, he declared, would only add to the burdens of the consumer. He opposed the creation of a live stock commission and urged that the authority to supervise the packing industry be vested in the secretary of agriculture.

He suggested that his department had a large number of men familiar with the industry and also that the farmers felt it was closer to them than possibly any other government agency.

CROWE MAY PUSH CHARGE AGAINST MRS. ROWLAND

Calls for Evidence Given at Inquest.

Facing the possible reinstatement of a murder charge against her by State's Attorney Crowe, Mrs. Lillian Rowland went into seclusion yesterday.

Her attorney, Charles E. Erbstein, in the meantime was fighting before Judge Horner in the Probate court to have Mrs. Rowland appointed administratrix of her dead husband's estate. Mrs. Rowland's petition charges trickery was used to obtain her signature to a petition for the appointment of Dr. Ira N. Willets as administrator of the estate. Action is expected by Judge Horner tomorrow.

Police Court Drops Case.
Mrs. Rowland was exonerated by a coroner's jury Wednesday at the inquest over Dr. Thomas Rowland, who was shot dead Sunday night during a struggle with his wife in their home. Yesterday a preliminary murder charge against her was stricken from the records at Sheffield avenue court by Judge John R. Caverly. Judge Caverly acted upon the motion of Attorney Erbstein, and Assistant State's Attorney J. Leonard Brill agreed. State's Attorney Crowe intimated a possible reopening of the case against Mrs. Rowland when he sent for a transcript of the testimony taken at the coroner's inquest.

Rowland's Estate $40,000.
"I have not decided yet whether I will take any action in the Rowland case," Mr. Crowe said. "My decision rests on what I find in the transcript." Attorney Erbstein announced that insurance policies for $30,000 had been found among Dr. Rowland's effects, his widow being the beneficiary in each one. The lawyer said the entire estate of Dr. Rowland will amount to about $40,000.

ILLINOIS LEGION TO PLANT 10,000 SOLDIER TREES

Great Ceremony Planned for Memorial Day.

Only 10,000 trees have been donated in Illinois for the country's Roads of Remembrance. There are 22,000 members of the American Legion alone. There are other patriotic and service organizations. No one must be forgotten who served in the great war. It isn't every one who can give materially toward the country's historical avenues. Can you? Your family will be remembered if it did anything, whether you give or not. Send your contribution to the Tree Editor, Tribune, until after May 14. Then send it to Adjt. Suttill, care American Legion, 111 West Washington street.

The fund will be used to plant trees and mark them and to buy them when necessary. Any money left after planting will form a maintenance fund.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

The American Legion, through Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman, past department commander and national executive committee member, and the state adjutant, William Q. Suttill, yesterday announced the Legion will plant the 10,000 trees the county board has offered, or as many trees as it can get, even if it is more than that, on the last of this month. It will be a truly great Decoration day, when the great organization of American fighters begins the greatest of all memory roads with this service.

"It's the greatest thing ever undertaken," Gen. Foreman said, "and it deserves the help not only of the Legion, but of every individual who had a live interest in this great war—and that means everybody. I can think of nothing that will do the country such credit and the soldiers such honor as these Roads of Remembrance."

Adjutant Wants Illinois First.

Adj. Suttill says he will notify all American Legion posts in Illinois to do all they can toward getting the trees planted as soon as possible. He will issue a general bulletin.

Of course there are soldiers who had money. There are soldiers who still have money, but there are any number who, with their families, will want to give trees for their own soldiers, or their friends, and who haven't money. So if you can spare a little toward the country's Roads of Remembrance, send what you can to THE TRIBUNE, Tree Editor.

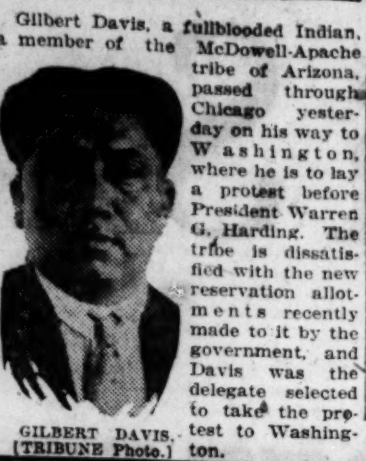

There are 352,000 men and women in Illinois who served in the late war. Eventually there will be 352,000 trees to their everlasting memory, beautifying the roads of the state as nothing else could beautify them.

Experts to Direct Planting.

The 10,000 trees will be planted under the watchful eye of experts who will, no doubt, volunteer their services. The forestry department at Washington will give directions as to the distance apart the trees should be planted and the distance from the road. The trees best suited to Illinois will be chosen by foresters.

Each branch of the American Legion throughout the state is expected to notify state headquarters as to how many trees it will plant, how soon they will be planted, and where they will be placed.

HOPE RENEWAL OF SETTLEMENT OF SHIP STRIKE

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Hopes for a settlement of the marine strike revived this evening following a conference of Secretary of Labor Davis and Admiral Benson with representatives of the marine engineers.

Secretary Davis postponed the conference for an hour while he went to the White House and discussed the situation and then resumed the discussion with the men.

Subsequently Chairman Benson of the shipping board appeared at the department and was closeted alone for an hour with the secretary and then the men were called in for the joint meeting. All parties maintained silence as to the program, but prophesied a favorable result.

Two Liners to Sail Today.

New York, May 5.—Two American passenger liners, the Callao for South America, and the Potomac for Bremen, the latter a local storm center in the marine strike, were loaded today with passengers and cargo and were moved from their docks to an anchorage in the lower harbor. Both ships, owners said, are fully manned with replacement crews and will sail within twenty-four hours. Union leaders assert they are short of men.

Other ships were made ready for sailing today, according to United States shipping board officials, but union officials declare none of them are fully manned.

A statement issued at the office of the shipping board asserted that its operating activities have not been

BUILDING TRADES OR ARBITRATION, THEIR CHIEF SAYS

A. F. of L. Official Opens
Way to Pay Changes?

Cincinnati, O., May 5.—Practically all the building trades unions are willing to submit the question of wage reductions to arbitration, William Hutchison, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, announced tonight after a meeting of the executive council of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

While the council has gone on record against wage cuts, the labor leader said that the unions were "willing to consider and accept any equitable wage adjustment that would be fitting in view of any reduction in the cost of living."

"We want building to boom," Hutchison said. "We want to be fair and see building boom," he added. The big building trades strikes in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, and many other places, Mr. Hutchison said, probably could be settled if the employers would submit the wage question to an impartial arbitration commission.

"We are not disposed," he added, "to submit the matter of working conditions and jurisdictional questions."

President Hutchison declared that building material concerns were apparently attempting to direct public attention to wages instead of reducing their prices.

"Even if settlements were made in number of cities," he added, "we have no promise that our men will be given work."

Berries Wage Reduction.
Indianapolis, Ind., May 5.—Wages of organized mine workers will not be reduced, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared today.

Mr. Lewis pointed out the miners are working under a scale fixed by the United States bituminous coal commission that does not terminate until March 31, 1922.

JUDGE DAVID ASKS REMOVAL OF COUNTRY JUDGE

Recommendation that Judge Arthur C. Fort of Woodford county be removed from the bench was made yesterday by Judge Joseph B. David following a hearing in the Criminal court building at which Attorney William T. Nelson and A. D. Adams, both of La Grange, were released on writs of habeas corpus.

Nelson and Adams were thrown into jail by Judge Fort for contempt of court after they had befriended Miss Lorene Sleight, 21 years old, who was a ward of the Woodford county court. At the request of Mr. Adams' wife, who is president of the Federated Charities of Cook County, her husband had obtained a position for the girl in Chicago.

"It's getting so that it isn't safe for a Chicago attorney to go before a judge outside of Cook county," Judge David said. "If these charges made by Attorney Nelson are true, Judge Fort is not fit to hold a judicial position. The judge ought to be removed. I don't know whether this matter should go to the legislature or not, but I want the case reported to the state bar association."

FLEMING PLANS TO RUSH BUILDER GRAFT TRIALS

Special Grand Jury Will Begin Work Monday.

The story of how teaming contractors acted as collectors for grafting union business agents in order that sites for new buildings could be excavated on schedule, is expected to be revealed before the Dailey joint legislative committee when the hearings are resumed today in the county building.

Twelve witnesses, most of whom are prominent contractors, will be examined. Information that several of these men collected tribute from contractors and paid it to business agents, who had threatened to call strikes, has already been given the committee.

The first men to be indicted by the special grand jury, which will be convened Monday, will be rushed to immediate trial, Joseph B. Fleming, special assistant attorney general, announced. It was also said that representatives of District Attorney Cline and State's Attorney Crowe will attend all future hearings of the committee.

Try to Swindle Tenants.

Warnings were issued last night by officials of the Chicago Tenants' Protective league to members cautioning them against attempts of persons posing as attorneys for the league, to mislead them. Reports on several of such attempts were received yesterday. The number of forcible detainer actions filed in the municipal court took a drop yesterday. At closing time, 217 had been filed against 244 the day previous. This was taken by league officials as an indication that many of the landlords are complying on their rent demands. The total number of cases filed since Monday is 1,538.

GREY LAG SPEEDS IN DERBY TRIAL; LIMPS AT FINISH

BY HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

Louisville, Ky., May 5.—(Special.)—Grey Lag, a chestnut son of Star Shoot, Miss J. H. turned out the most impressive workout in the final prep of candidates for the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

This entry from the stable of Harry Sinclair, oil magnate and one time Federal baseball league backstop, limped at the end of one and one-quarter miles rather impressively in 2:06.45. Keen eyed observers, however, noted that the colt favored his right foreleg at the finish and shook his head as they said: "All the Star Shoots have soft feet."

Grey Lag Expected to Start.

Assistant Trainer Leary immediately wired Trainer Sam Hildreth, whose preparation of the youngsters has been a notable following both here and in Chicago. The colt looked better as he walked off the track than at the finish of the workout, and the general impression was that the lameness, if such it was, would not prevent his starting in the Derby. Grey Lag has been 8 to 1 in the ante-post betting.

Those Derby eligibles which had not worked yesterday were sent over the course in their final prep and tomorrow morning will see merely mild exercise gallops just as a pugilist tapers off the day before his big battle.

Tryer and Frudery of the Whitney stable, to which may be added Brownspun, had their work yesterday, so the public choices had only lung openers.

Star Voter Travels Well.

Among those sent the full route were Star Voter, an impressive looking youngster by Voter, in 2:08; Billy Barton, the Cuban Derby winner owned by President Stenham of the New York Giants, in 2:09, and Nancy Lee, a filly which Trainer Jack McCormick announced as a sure starter, in 2:10.25.

Careful, another filly, stepped one and one-eighth miles.

Great importance, however, does not attach to the time of these workouts, as the jockeys were riding to instructions and, moreover, the track has been dry since last season, and on a dry day should be lightning fast.

It was inclined to be sandy beneath a year ago, but in its present condition should be hard, perhaps too hard for horses with tender feet.

Weather indications, following the rain of the early week, are for clear, sunshiny weather Saturday.

Louisville Awakens.

While the performers, the cause of this outpouring of sport lovers from all sections of the country, were making ready, Louisville began to take on its usual Derby day appearance, although another day will elapse before the place teems with familiar faces which you have seen for years whenever you attend the races, no matter where held.

Race track crowds are preparing for the largest crowd ever known, estimates varying from 50,000 to 75,000. Hotels for months have been booked to their capacity and the overflow must seek private rooms, of which there are plenty available for a consideration. Then there are the city's nineteen beautiful parks.

Regrets for Chicagoans.

As a Chicagoan surveys this scene and preparations, he is forced regretfully to recall the time when there was an American Derby in Chicago.

ALLOW ME TO SUGGEST THAT YOU PLACE SKEEZIX ON FOUR HOUR FEEDING PERIODS AND THAT YOU TAKE HIM TO AN INFANT WELFARE STATION WHERE HE WILL BE EXAMINED AND YOU WILL BE INSTRUCTED.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT.

DEAR WAKE: As a resident of Chicago, I have always held our state university in high esteem. However, the Illinois have been making statements lately that call for reformation. Michigan students encourage rivalry and welcome Illinois as a competitor. But we demand fair play and accuracy.

The trouble started at the Illinois-Michigan football game at Ann Arbor. That one of our players was intentionally tripped is undoubtedly true. The referee penalized the visitors to the limit. We "pupils" of Illinois did not howl about that game, but took our medicine.

The basketball game with Illinois at Ann Arbor caused a flurry. Between halves a wrestling match was staged. As you know, players always leave the floor. Carney, who wanted to limber up, stayed to lose the ball. He was within his rights, but as a sportsman he should have had some consideration for the spectators. A few students acted in a manner unfitted to college men—there were a few black sheep in any institution. Michigan sincerely regretted the incident. Yours for a better Big Ten understanding.

S. K.

DEAR WAKE: Apropos of your remark, "Illini against the field," I'm asking you, across a thousand miles of space and fifteen years of time, "Isn't it remarkable how times change?"

It used to be "Chicago against the field." It was the ambition of every team to "beat Chicago." Stagg was the target for undergraduate abuse, and every student body except Chicago complained that "The Train never gave them a square deal, but always favored the Maroons."

What was the explanation? Simply that Chicago was winning the fourth of the time. Now the Illini are winning. When they are defeated it will be somebody else "against the field," with the Illini joining the brick throwing. Youth! Youth!

One doesn't realize what a fine thing her play once in a while, but he doesn't let her play too hard.

DEAR WAKE: Remember you back when: Doves of high-brown Texas cattle were driven in Archer avenue (Archer road) every day, over streets and sidewalks, on their way to the packing house of Shinneman & Eisenhardt at Salt Street, and the excitement of a runaway wild steer in your backyard was not uncommon in those days of 1876—C. ROSS TO CLOTHE CALUMET CLUB IN BRAND NEW DRESS

BY JOE DAVIS.

Donald Ross, the Boston golf course architect, completed his survey of the Calumet Country club yesterday after four days' work. Although he has been able to utilize some of the fairways of the old course, every green has been changed.

Several of the old holes were too near the clubhouse and this defect has been remedied. The remodeled course will be approximately 6,470 yards, and can be reduced to a minimum of 6,200 yards or lengthened to 6,600 by shortening or lengthening the tees.

No Parallel Fairways.

Ross has utilized the creek in making a number of diagonal carries, and believes there are some fine holes. There will be no parallel fairways. The yardage of the holes is approximately: Out—451, 388, 423, 390, 221, 402, 365, 147, 444, 403, 438, 187, 362, 198, 528, 350, 402, 454.

Ross will visit the Oak Park Country club today to look over the course, and about May 20 will inspect Indian Hill.

Books Six Golf Meets.

The Olympia Fields Country club has already booked a number of miscellaneous tournaments this month, and several more are in prospect. Those already allotted are as follows:

Wednesday, May 11—Illinois Athletic Club golf club.

Friday, May 17—Western Trade Golf association.

Friday, May 20—Manufacturers' Agents' Golf club.

Tuesday, May 24—American Radiator Company Golf club.

Wednesday, May 25—Palat, Old and Vernalis Golf association.

Tuesday, May 31—Chicago Musicians' Golf club.

Several wagers are already reported to have been made in London this week of the invading American players would win either of the British open, amateur or professional titles. In the absence of Robert A. Gardner, and in view of Charles Evans Jr.'s practical unpreparedness, some of the more venturesome London sportsmen are said to have wagered as high as 10 to 1 against Uncle Sam's sharpshooters in the amateur event. Later, the odds are said to have receded to 2 1/2 to 1.

BIRD NOTES.

He has one record of arrival on March 31.

Do you keep a record of first arrivals? It is an interesting and bothersome pastime and throws much light on bird character. The punctuality of some birds, considering the great and perilous journey they take, is amazing. Such a record becomes more valuable every year and more interesting.

I saw what is probably the rear guard of this spring's blue bird flight. On April 25 I was astonished on seeing a flock of these birds heading north up the Indian river at Melrose, Fla., and when I left there April 11 there were not many, but our neighbors also had two or three at each of their houses.

Edward P. Frickett, Evanston, Ill., states that the advance guard of his interesting martin colony arrived April 4. This is a little earlier than the average arrival at his house, although FIGHTING DANDELION.

It is powerful enough to throw a fine mist, driving as much of the solution down into the foliage as possible.

At the New York station, where successful tests were made over a period of several years, it was found necessary to spray at least from three to five times during the season. Early spring, after the central blossom had formed and before the bloom comes out, is the best time to make the first spray, repeating about every third week. Do not spray in hot, dry weather, but treat the lawn in late summer or fall to prevent the dandelions from recovering. Supplement this treatment by digging up the dandelions and reseeding the bare spots. This is necessary for complete success.

Use fertilizer of some kind to keep the grass growing vigorously. If this is done the conspicuous blackening of the lawn following an application of the iron sulphate solution will disappear. However, the solution does kill white clover, but if the proper strength solution is used tests have shown that it does not injure the grass.

SPORTS THROUGH EYES

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

NEWSPAPER headline refers to Babe Ruth as "the great crackman." Babe "cracks 'em," but there's nothing burglarious about his method. Babe isn't even diplomatic. His method is as direct as Jack Dempsey's. He hits 'em on the nose.

It was a few additions to the old Webster:

"Crack"—Sound produced when Babe Ruth's bat meets the ball. (b) Separation of fibrous texture of board where Babe Ruth's ball hits center field fence. (c) Kind of a ball player that Babe Ruth is. (d) Moral effect produced on opposing team by Babe Ruth's home run clouts.

Babe has started his home run season much earlier than last year. With a flying start like this he is likely to break the record again. He may beat fifty-four home runs in a single season. That would have sounded like a joke before Babe Ruth came along.

Mike is Ambitious.

Mike Gibbons is ambitious. Mike would like to take the middleweight title away from Johnny Wilson. Mike was one of the cleverest boxers ever seen in the middleweight class and he did have a great punch.

The punch has been lacking in Mike's few engagements during the last three or four years, and if there's anything Mike will need against Wilson it is a copper riveted kick.

Wilson is as tough as a longshoreman, and he has a knack of getting that lefty hook through an opponent's defense. Even Gibbons' skill won't keep Wilson from slipping one through now and then, and unless Mike can hit the way he did in the old days when he stowed them away with a punch, his chance of beating the champion won't be worth a bet. The best line on Gibbons-Wilson is that Gibbons had a chance to win the title from Mike O'Dowd and he couldn't make a dent in the tough Irish champion.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

During the intermission of the Muratore concert we stopped at Recital hall long enough to discover that Ethel Tammings, who was singing there last night, has an excellent voice of crystal clarity. She has much of charm, more of beauty and a surplus of vocal common sense. As a singer, she was a revelation to the audience.

There was an embarrassment of master accompanists. Isaac Van Grove, who has been engaged as one of the conductors of the opera next season, served M. Muratore. Miss A. Nelson was at the piano for Miss Nell.

Muratore's Voice of Gold Rings 24 Carat True in Concert

BY RUTH MILLER.
GOLDEN voice. The tarnished phrase of the hack reporter, isn't it? But, forsooth, when the voice of gold described in Muratore's phrase becomes precious, gleaming verbal metal.

In the tender, softer strains the miracle voice of this great tenor, isn't it? But, forsooth, when the voice of gold described in Muratore's phrase becomes precious, gleaming verbal metal.

Last night at the Auditorium the quiet sincerity, the earnest intensity, and the simplicity of the unquestioned great that is Muratore's, was just as much in evidence as his unblemished artistry. One wonders if there is anything which could turn this master singer's head a bit. Encore was piled on encore, and he received these plaudits of success delightedly, but at most apologetically, as though he feared they praised too much.

He sings marvelously well in concert, this Muratore. He pleads that he misses the trappings and the sartorial extravaganzas of opera, but nevertheless he builds for his audience, though perhaps he knows it not, the vivid theatrical illusion of barren stage with the magic of his voice.

Playing with an interpretive breadth, a spontaneity, and a virility that seems to grow twofold since her recent successes, Amy Nell appeared as the assisting artist. Here is a big, warm tone, and she has the braids with which to rule it. Its power never becomes harshness, nor its sweetness sickening.

There was an embarrassment of master accompanists. Isaac Van Grove, who has been engaged as one of the conductors of the opera next season, served M. Muratore. Miss A. Nelson was at the piano for Miss Nell.

There was an embarrassment of master accompanists. Isaac Van Grove, who has been engaged as one of the conductors of the opera next season, served M. Muratore. Miss A. Nelson was at the piano for Miss Nell.

During the intermission of the Muratore concert we stopped at Recital hall long enough to discover that Ethel Tammings, who was singing there last night, has an excellent voice of crystal clarity. SHARP ADVANCE REGAINS RECENT WHEAT LOSSES

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

A more cheerful feeling prevailed in the grain trade with a broader outside buying power and an increased disposition to regard the constructive influences. There was a small break early, which brought in increased buying. It was followed by a big advance, with wheat the leader. Closing trades were at the top to 10 under on wheat, with net gains of 1 1/2 to 2 1/2, more than regaining the loss of the previous day. Corn finished 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher, oats 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher, rye 1/2 to 3/4, and barley 1 1/2 to 2 higher.

Provisions advanced sharply after a break early and closed around the top, with long 16 1/2 to 20, while short ribs were 16 1/2 to 20 higher and pork 20 to 25. The wheat situation appears to be working into better shape for holders. Foreigners continue to buy cash grain and holders here reported a better milling demand. Selling pressure exhausted itself in the first few minutes and with continued liberal buying by outsiders, particularly by shorts, May advanced from $1.37 1/2 to $1.40, the highest price since the recent down turn.

July favorite in trading. July was of a more favorite and advanced from $1.08 1/2 to $1.10, where it closed. Traders are disposed to give more thought to the real situation, particularly to the disparity in the price difference between cash, May, and July. July is around 40 under the price of spot No. 1 hard, which is giving away too much for the privilege of selling it short.

Exporters were good buyers of May wheat and seaboard business reported after the close aggregated 600,000 bu, with export clearances of wheat and flour 1,445,000 bu, including 127,000 bushels. Cash premiums were easier on red winter and low grade springs and firm on the higher grades and on the northwest and southwest. Country offerings were lighter.

Crop news attracted more attention. Ingalls was out with a moderately bullish report on Kansas and Oklahoma, and induced liberal covering by shorts and fair investment buying. The trade, however, is not willing to admit that there is crop deterioration, although it is daily becoming more evident. Receipts continue less than the shipments.

Bad Weather Delays Corn. Sentiment in the corn trade is more divided. Unfavorable weather is delaying planting and preventing corn already planted from germinating. The advance in wheat, with a fair cash business, 475,000 bu, which included 375,000 bu reported late Wednesday, with charters for 250,000 bu to Montreal, was a strengthening factor.

Good buying by shorts and commission houses advanced May from 5 1/2 to 6 1/2, although the close was at 5 1/2, the recession being due to profit-taking. July touched 45 1/2, and reacted 1/2 at the last. Illinois farmers and interior shippers sold over 150,000 bu No. 2 yellow corn to arrive at 10 over Chicago May.

Oats Reports Unfavorable. Crop reports on oats are less favorable, particularly from Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, and Iowa. Receipts in Iowa is the greatest in over thirty years as the result of cold and unfavorable weather. This, with the advance in other grains, brought in a general covering movement, with some investment buying, especially in September, which was heavily oversold, and it advanced from 37 1/2 to 40 1/2, with the close around 40.

Rye was hard to buy. The seaboard exporters control the May, and there is none offered, except a little from the northwest. May rye and wheat sold at practically the same price at the time, $1.15, which was the top on rye, with the close 1/2 under that figure.

Packers and Shorts Buy. Provisions were bought by packers

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of 600,000 bu wheat and 200,000 bu rye were reported at the seaboard, and it was understood that there were bids for a cargo of hard winter and one of Manitoba in the market that could not be filled on account of lack of offerings. The grain was for nearby shipment. Exporters said the buying probably was due to the British coal strike, which is expected to check clearance on American clearance, as foreign vessels will supply the tonnage and can secure their coal here.

Domestic shipment sales here were 22,000 bu wheat, 150,000 bu corn, and 370,000 bu oats, the latter including 180,000 bu at 10 over May C. I. F. Buffalo. There was 315,000 bu corn reported to exporters, but part of this was presumably done the previous day. Charters were for 280,000 bu corn at 10 to Montreal.

Premiums on nearby loadings of wheat at the Gulf were easier, with May quoted at 22 1/2 to 23, while deferred shipment was unchanged, with August 16 1/2 to 18 over. Local spot premiums were easier on red and firm on hard No. 2 red 7 1/2 to 8 over and No. 3 hard 10 1/2 to 12 over. Outside markets were strong, with St. Louis 3 1/2 to 4 over and Kansas City 5 1/2 to 6 over. Offerings of corn were larger, but demand was good and spot prices were 1 1/2 to 2 higher. Receipts, 223 cars. No. 2 yellow sold at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and No. 2 white 1 1/2 to 1 3/4.

Receipts, 223 cars. No. 2 yellow sold at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and No. 2 white 1 1/2 to 1 3/4. Demand for cash oats was good and prices were 1 1/2 to 2 higher at the last. No. 2 white sold at 20 and No. 3 white at 19 1/2 higher. Cash grain prices in leading markets follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

An overall condition in both May and July wheat, with continued buying by seaboard exporters, and no pressure of cash wheat, placed the market here in a position to be easily advanced when the short interest became anxious to cover. This was the position yesterday, following the break of the previous day. On Wednesday there was an advance in May wheat, while the July wheat was under pressure and lagged. There is a large shortage in May wheat, and it is tight, trade being hard to settle with all leading elevators and a few of the largest commission houses are long. One seaboard exporter is said to be long May wheat here and in Winnipeg. In the latter market May advanced 50 following the break of Wednesday. Under present conditions wide fluctuations are to be expected.

The Illinois Grain Dealers' Association will hold its annual meeting at Peoria, May 10 and 11. Joseph P. Griffin, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, will address the conference May 10. The fare to Peoria one way is $5.00 and Pullman $1.00.

Board of Trade membership are higher with sales at $6.00 and $6.50 net to the buyer, compared with $6.00 paid last week. Milwaukee membership are $1.50 asked.

Deliveries on May contracts yesterday were 97,000 bu corn, 508,000 bu oats, and 50,000 bu hard. Total deliveries at Minneapolis so far this month are 2,102,000 bu oats.

ASCHERS TO ADD MORE THEATERS TO MOVIE CHAIN

BY AL CHASE.

Preliminary to starting an extensive building program, which will mean the erection of several big movie theaters in outlying sections, the Ascher Brothers corporation of Chicago has been incorporated under the laws of Delaware with $17,500,000 authorized capital stock. The incorporators are Nathan, Harry, and Max Ascher, who conduct the firm of Ascher Brothers, owners and operators of a chain of film houses throughout Chicago and adjacent cities. The new corporation, in the loop, is the newest Ascher theater. It is understood that the entire business of Ascher Brothers will be taken over by the new corporation.

Joseph Hollender has bought the six flat building at 1107-09 North Shore avenue from Mrs. Henry Behrendt, through Harrison & Riedy, for a reported $65,000. The same brokers have sold the three apartment building at 133 Lafayette parkway for $37,500, and the six flat building at 520-22 Windsor avenue for E. Perle, through Lyda B. Gibson for the same price. They also have sold the vacant, $24,143, at the northwest corner of Kenmore and Balmoral avenues, to Samuel Shaffer for $33,000.

In yesterday's real estate column the details of the deal at the northwest corner of Cottage Grove and 67th street were omitted in the rush of getting the market pages to press on time. Wagner Bros. were the brokers in the fifty year lease of the 100126 by George Anton. The leasee intends to erect a two story office and store building to cost $75,000. The total rental for the term is $195,000, or at average annual rental of $21,000. The leasee will pay all taxes, etc. Wagner Bros. will manage the new building.
